The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Greetings from the Chancellor

Members of the Class of 1994, your families and friends, University alumni, and other friends of this institution, I am privileged to welcome you to the 192nd Commencement at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Graduates, this is the day that you have earned. But it is not your day alone; for in you have your families, your teachers, and your friends invested much hope and effort. You will not disappoint that hope. If you are to be true to your own better selves and to us, not only will you distinguish yourselves in individual professional pursuits, but each of you will find opportunities for service to the citizens of your community, your state, your nation, and your world. By serving your fellow human beings, you will lengthen the finest tradition of the University.

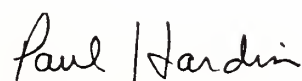

Today we bring to a happy close the series of events that have made this Bicentennial year notable in the annals of our institution. In your printed program, you will find a summary of those events, and I urge you to read it. The year has brought us many welcome visitors and renewed the ancient bonds of mutual affection and support that bind together our University and the people of North Carolina.

Two centuries ago, the General Assembly of North Carolina established this University and entrusted to it a high responsibility: to prepare the youth “for an honorable discharge of the social duties of life, by paying the strictest attention to their education....” The University continues to be faithful to that trust.

Today 196,000 of our alumni “discharge the social duties of life” in innumerable useful pursuits—in healing and teaching, in commerce and industry, in the arts and sciences, in government and philanthropy. In addition to the education that fitted them for socially productive roles, many have gained here a larger vision of the meaning of citizenship in a democracy—the obligation and opportunity to give leadership to their fellow citizens in every sphere and at every level. It is in these public and private leadership roles that our graduates have made the most distinctive and valuable return for the generous sustenance that the people of North Carolina have provided the University.

Today the Class of 1994 takes its place in the noble band of alumni of this University and assumes the obligations that status entails. Remember your University, cherish it, support it, protect it that it may continue to do for your children and their children and countless others what it has done for you.

Godspeed.

A sign language interpreter will be on the platform. A student marshal or Disability Services staff member can advise persons with hearing impairments about seating.

If you are seated in the upper deck on the south side of the stadium, please exit through Gate 6 after today's ceremonies. Gate 6 is behind the deck. After exiting, you may follow walkways to your destination. Thank you for helping decrease crowding at the lower exits.

The Front Cover

The front cover of this program features a screened reproduction of the bill that first attempted to establish the University. Introduced in the State General Assembly in 1784 by William Sharpe, the bill was defeated because some legislators feared such an institution would enroll only sons of the elite. Efforts continued and in 1789 a bill introduced by William Richardson Davie was adopted by the State Legislature. Planning for University buildings and financial support began immediately.

Voices from the Past

Throughout this Bicentennial commencement program, student voices tell of life at the University.

The following quote was excerpted from a larger collection of letters and diaries entitled, "Two Hundred Years of Student Life: Selected Letters and Diaries," edited by Lisa Tolbert.

"... Students have made their own indelible mark on The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill throughout its two-hundred-year history. Their personal letters and diaries reveal a university experience that often differed from the intentions of faculty members and the expectations of parents. Rowdy, young, competitive, fun-loving students have never confined themselves exclusively to academic pursuits at Chapel Hill. They have always known how to have a good time. But the student vision of college life has also frequently challenged the status quo, pressing the University to live up to its highest standards. To hear the students tell the history of the University is to learn the unexpected — how to kill 'chinchies' [bed bugs]; textbook bonfires that changed the curriculum; horse whipping the college president."

Alma Mater

The words of "Hark the Sound," UNC-Chapel Hill's alma mater, were written in 1897 by William Starr Myers, a graduating senior. The Glee Club director asked Myers to put words to the tune "Amici," and the song was first performed on June 2, 1897, as part of the Glee Club's Commencement performance in Gerrard Hall.

Soon the song was almost forgotten. When a University quartet tried a few years later to remember the words, they could recollect only the first verse and the chorus of Myers' version. Two members of the quartet, Charles S. Mangum and Charles T. Woollen, added two verses to the one they remembered and those are the verses sung to this day. Mangum later became a professor in the School of Medicine, and Woollen worked as the University's business manager and controller.

"Hark the Sound"

Hark, the sound of Tar Heel voices

Ringin' clear and true,

Singin' Carolina's praises, Shoutin' N.C.U!

Hail to the brightest star of all!

*Clear its radiance shine!
Carolina, priceless gem,*

Receive all praises thine.

Class of 1994 Gift

The generosity of the Class of 1994 will enable Carolina students instantly to access University library reserve materials through an electronic reserve system.

In the gift-giving tradition of previous senior classes, the Class of 1994's contributions to the University's Academic Affairs Library will fund the system.

Students will be able to access and print out reserve materials from on-line computers instead of checking them out for a limited time and making photocopies. The gift will provide for technology upgrades, new electronic databases, and services in the library.

A classmate-to-classmate challenge in early 1994 helped the class secure pledges toward the $325,000 goal. Names of seniors who fulfill a $200 pledge will be displayed permanently in Davis Library.

Chancellor Paul Hardin

The son of a Methodist minister by birth and a lawyer by training, Paul Hardin III found his life's calling in education. After twenty-six years as a college and university president, he stands out as a leader in American higher education.

A North Carolina native, Hardin is the seventh chancellor of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the nation's first state university, which ends an eight-month observance of its 200th anniversary with today's Commencement.

Hardin came to Carolina in July 1988 after thirteen years as president of Drew University in Madison, N.J., where he earned a reputation for being sensitive to the needs of students, faculty, and staff; built a major library complex; and started a program that made computers accessible to every freshman, a first for a U.S. liberal arts school.

He was president of Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas, from 1972 to 1974 and president of Wofford College in Spartanburg, S.C., from 1968 to 1972. Except for stints in the U.S. Army and as a practicing lawyer, Hardin has been associated with college campuses since entering Duke University at age seventeen.

Since taking the helm to lead the University through its Bicentennial, Hardin often has reminded the Carolina family that in the complex and highly competitive world of public higher education the future belongs to schools that command it — not to those waiting passively.

To command the future, Hardin believes Carolina must build new partnerships, celebrate diversity, and remain passionately committed to its time-honored mission of vital teaching, cutting-edge research, and distinguished public service. The chancellor's personal goal is to provide leadership that will keep Carolina among the nation's finest public research universities in the twenty-first century. He meets that challenge by combining strong and thoughtful leadership with a refreshing sense of humor and a dynamic personal style.

Hardin was instrumental in persuading the 1991 N.C. General Assembly to give the state's public universities more flexibility to manage budgets and personnel. The chancellor has strengthened Carolina's own internal planning and budgeting processes. In 1990, Hardin started an intense year-long review of the University's most critical long-term goals and strategies for reaching them. He headed a panel of faculty, administrators, and students that produced a 1992 report that guides planning for the University's third century.

Hardin devotes much of his time to helping raise private funds to ensure future excellence through the Bicentennial Campaign for Carolina, the largest fund-raising effort in University history. After exceeding its initial $320 million goal in March 1994, sixteen months ahead of schedule, the campaign has set a new $400 million goal.

Hardin will step down as chancellor in June 1995 after the campaign ends. Besides success in fund-raising, other hallmarks of the Hardin administration include making major efforts to improve and reward undergraduate and graduate teaching; taking great strides forward in faculty-conducted research, leading to dramatic gains in contract and grant funding; and strengthening training and public service programs for state leaders in education, government, health care, and other critical fields.

Hardin is a stalwart advocate of diversity on a campus that leads the nation in the number of black faculty members holding endowed professorships. The chancellor organized a task force to study community and diversity on campus, appointed a committee to advise him on ways to improve race relations, and asked trustees to honor pioneering black faculty by naming the admissions building Blyden and Roberta H. Jackson Hall. He has encouraged efforts to create a new residence hall diversity program to bring more black students from south to north campus; hire a minority development professional to spearhead fund raising for student programs; and publish a directory of initiatives, scholarships, and organizations for underrepresented students.

Improving American public education is high on the chancellor's personal agenda. He serves on the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Hardin remains a leading national spokesman on higher education's most important issues, including athletic reform, a career-long interest. A charter member who recently was reappointed to a rare second term on the NCAA Presidents' Commission, he closely monitors reform proposals such as those made by the Knight Foundation Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics.

Many commission reform measures already were in place at Chapel Hill, partly because of the faculty's 1990 call for local, conference, and national changes. Hardin vigorously supported faculty proposals and advances his own reform initiatives in discussions with colleagues nationwide. He and Athletic Director John Swofford devised a plan to commit $1 million in post-season athletics revenues over five years to undergird academic programs. Such athletic support for academics is rare among U.S. colleges and universities.

Named in a 1986 study as one of the nation's 100 most effective university presidents, Hardin has contributed to several international and national education-related organizations. He has been a co-chairman of the Japan-U.S. Conference of University Presidents, as well as a member of the Board of Higher Education in New Jersey and the Board of Directors of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities. Nominated by students on his own campus, Hardin in 1993 was named an honorary member of the Golden Key National Honor Society, which helps academically gifted students gain recognition and leadership experience.

The chancellor, whose name appears in Who's Who in American Education, twice has served as president of the National Association of Schools and Colleges of the United Methodist Church, and has chaired the National Commission on United Methodist Higher Education.

The study of law has guided Hardin's career. After earning Phi Beta Kappa honors and an undergraduate degree from Duke in 1952, Hardin entered Duke law school, where he edited the law review and graduated first in his class. He served two years in the U.S. Army, then practiced law in Alabama before returning to Duke in 1958 to teach law for a decade. He is a professor of law at Carolina.

Hardin vigorously practices the community service he advocates. Shortly after arriving in Chapel Hill, he and then Mayor Jonathan Howes created the CCC (Coordination and Consultation Committee) to strengthen relations between the University, Chapel Hill, Carrboro, and Orange County. He serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Chamber of Commerce, as vice president of the Public Private Partnership, as a member of the Greater Triangle Regional Council, and belongs to the Chapel Hill Rotary Club and the University United Methodist Church.

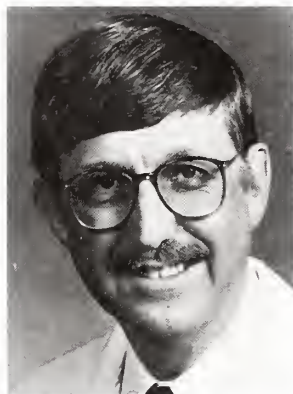

Hardin campaigned for mayor of Durham in 1967 and served as the second chairman of Durham's Human Relations Committee, which compelled city officials to integrate its movie theaters. He is a former member of the Duke Board of Trustees.

Hardin, who was born in Charlotte, and his wife, Barbara, call several places in North Carolina home because they were children of Methodist ministers. The Hardins have three children: Paul Russell Hardin of Atlanta, Ga., Sandra Mikush of Winston-Salem, and Dorothy Holmes of Birmingham, Mich. The chancellor is the son of Bishop Paul Hardin, Jr., of Asheville and the late Dorothy Reel Hardin.

Honorary Degree Recipient
Commencement Speaker
Francis Sellers Collins
Doctor of Science

Few scientists have enjoyed the satisfaction of watching their research lead to a repeated and successful deciphering of the causes of diseases. Francis Collins, as perhaps the pioneering geneticist of his time, is one who has. Introducing the gene-finding method known as "positional cloning," now employed by scientists throughout the world, he concentrates on inheritance patterns of certain diseases within families in order to locate elusive and dysfunctional genes. The results have been astonishing! Working with a team of scientists in Toronto in 1989, he identified the gene, defects in which result in cystic fibrosis. He also helped to discover the gene that causes neurofibromatosis, a nerve disorder that leads to disfiguring and symptomatic cutaneous and internal tumors. More recently, he was a part of the team that identified the gene responsible for Huntington's Disease. From these discoveries, earlier and more accurate diagnoses are now being established, and new therapies are being pursued.

In 1993, he was named Director of the National Center for Human Genome Research in the National Institutes of Health. The multi-billion dollar Human Genome Project has established for itself the daunting goal of identifying by the year 2005 all the 100,000 genes in the human body. Despite the success that he has enjoyed in the basic science laboratory, Francis Collins has remained a physician at heart. He has always enjoyed the close personal relationship between physician and patient. Twice in the past few years, he traveled to Nigeria where he spent several weeks working as a physician in a small missionary hospital.

While completing his doctoral dissertation in physical chemistry, he enrolled in the School of Medicine at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. A three-week course on medical genetics captured his interest and redirected his goals toward a concentration in the study of genetics. After completing his M.D. here in 1977, he remained another four years in the School of Medicine as Intern, Assistant Resident, and Chief Resident.

When not engaged in the laboratory or traveling on behalf of his research, he relaxes with an acoustic guitar or a sojourn on his Honda Nighthawk 750 motorcycle.

His exploration of chromosome mapping and DNA sequencing has already dramatically altered our understanding of human genes and their influence upon diseases long considered unconquerable. Overseeing the deciphering of the complete genetic script in human cells, as well as measuring the ethical, legal, and social implications of such discoveries, he is now turning his attention to the identification of the genes responsible for breast cancer and adult leukemia. His discoveries are radically enhancing our knowledge of the human body, its care and preservation. For his commitment to that high endeavor, this University takes special pride in bestowing upon Francis Collins this honorary Doctor of Science degree.

Honorary Degree Recipient
Daniel Terry Blue, Jr.
Doctor of Laws

Dan Blue is now serving his second term as Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives. He is the first African-American and the second youngest person to serve in that high office. Upon assuming office as Speaker, he led a turbulent 1991 session when budget shortages were in excess of $1 billion and legislators were called upon to cut expenditures and raise taxes. In 1992, he successfully led a move to enact workplace safety laws in the aftermath of the fire and loss of life at a poultry plant in Hamlet, North Carolina.

A graduate of North Carolina Central University and Duke University School of Law, he later joined in forming his own law firm in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Elected as Wake County representative to the North Carolina House of Representatives in 1980, he has since been reelected six times. The nonpartisan North Carolina Center for Public Policy has rated his effectiveness as a legislator as #30 (of 120) in 1981; #6 in 1989; and, since his election as Speaker, #1.

He is the recipient of the Robert F. Kennedy-Jacob Javits Award for State Advocate of the Year in 1993. This award is given by the National Congress for Community Economic Development. He also received the Leadership Award from the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education in 1993 and was a recipient of the National 4-H Alumni Recognition award in 1991.

In remarks presented on the occasion of the Bicentennial of the Bill of Rights in 1991, Dan Blue spoke of the fact that Americans seem to be losing faith in constitutional government. He called for a new revolution, "a revolution of thinking . . . that brings us together as communities, and neighbors, and friends. That revolution should be based on . . . the need for all of us to participate in our government and to make sure it works the way we designed it." As one whose tireless efforts have helped to assure that government works the way we have designed it, this University hails a leader in the often tangled, always challenging, processes of modern government by conferring upon Daniel T. Blue, Jr., this honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

Honorary Degree Recipient
Kenneth Lauren Burns
Doctor of Letters

Almost single-handedly, Ken Burns's documentary films of American history and culture have redefined the medium of filmmaking and raised it to a new level of art. Perhaps his most acclaimed achievement is the series "The Civil War," for which he was director, producer, co-writer, chief cinematographer, music director, and executive producer. When the series was first aired on public television in 1990, it attracted an audience of 40 million viewers and went on to receive two Emmy Awards, two Grammy Awards, Producer of the Year Award from the Producer's Guild, the People's Choice Award, the Peabody Award, the Du Pont Columbia Award, the D. W. Griffith Award, and the Lincoln Prize.

His other documentary films have also earned wide acclaim. "Brooklyn Bridge" and "The Statue of Liberty" were nominated for Academy Awards, but each of his productions has earned a long succession of prizes and approval: "The Shakers: Hands to Work, Hearts to God"; "Huey Long"; "The Congress: The History and Promise of Representative Government";

"Thomas Hart Benton"; "Lindbergh"; and "Empire of the Air: The Men Who Made Radio." Ken Burns's "Baseball," a nine-part series on the history of the national pastime, is now complete and will be aired later this year.

A graduate of Hampshire College, he has received honorary degrees from Dartmouth College, Amherst College, Bowdoin College, the University of Delaware, Case Western Reserve University, and other institutions. In 1991, Ken Burns announced his decision to donate his papers and working materials to the Southern Historical Collection at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He completed the initial transfers in 1993.

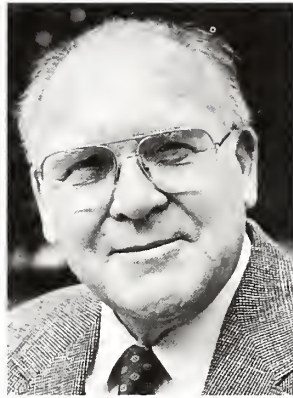

Speaking of his ambition as a filmmaker, he has said, "I started off my career wanting to be the next John Ford. I was particularly drawn to the way his films seemed not just to retell but essentially to be American stories." The work of Ken Burns is indeed embodying stories of America at the highest level of documentary journalism and art. For his creative innovations as historian, filmmaker, and artist, the University takes profound pleasure in conferring upon him this honorary degree of Doctor of Letters.

Honorary Degree Recipient
Walter Joseph Harrelson
Doctor of Letters

Biblical scholar, teacher, translator, builder of bridges among religious denominations, and distinguished academic administrator, Walter Harrelson has, like the Old Testament prophets he knows so well, been a clarion voice for the understanding of religion in the modern world. His career was crowned in 1990 with the publication of the New Revised Standard Version of the Bible: he served as a member of the Translation Committee from 1976 and as its Vice Chair from 1979. He recently co-authored an account of this work in a book called The Making of the New Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

A native of Winnabow, North Carolina, he served in the United States Navy from 1941 to 1945 and then completed his B.A. degree at this University in 1947. He went on to receive his Doctor of Theology degree at Union Theological Seminary. He arrived at the University of Chicago in 1955 as Dean of the School of Divinity, an office he held for five years. In 1960, he moved to Vanderbilt University as Professor of Old Testament, going on to serve as Dean of the Divinity School from 1967 to 1975 and Distinguished Professor of Hebrew Bible from 1975 until his retirement in 1990. Today he is Director of the Lilly Ministry Project at Vanderbilt Divinity School.

On leave from Vanderbilt, he became Rector of the Ecumenical Institute for Advanced Theological Studies in Jerusalem from 1977 to 1978 and then a member of its Advisory Council from 1980 to 1984. He has been a member of the Dead Sea Scrolls Foundation since 1991 and has worked with special interest on manuscript sources long hidden in Ethiopian monasteries.

His published scholarship represents an equally wide range of interests. Among his distinguished works are From Fertility Cult to Worship (1969), The Ten Commandments and Human Rights (1980), and, co-authored with Rabbi Randall M. Falk, Jews and Christians: A Troubled Family (1990). Since 1991, he has been Associate Editor of the forthcoming Mercer Bible Commentary.

Walter Harrelson is one of the organizers of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, D.C., and a member of its Church Relations Committee.

In the Preface to a festschrift prepared in his honor in 1989, the editors cite a quality underlying his work that "no one who knows him can have missed . . . his resolute call . . . for the disbanding of oppressive structures of whatever kind." For a distinguished career dedicated to overcoming such structures by casting a lamp of understanding upon ancient religious texts and channeling that light toward modern interfaith dialogue, this University is pleased to confer this honorary degree of Doctor of Letters upon Walter Harrelson.

Honorary Degree Recipient
Joseph Curtis Sloane
Doctor of Letters

It is fitting that, at the conclusion of its Bicentennial Observance, this University should recognize the individual who has surely made the single-greatest contribution to the study and appreciation of art on this campus. Arriving in 1959, Joseph Sloane became Chairman of the Department of Art and Director of the William Hayes Ackland Memorial Art Center. He held both positions for the next nineteen years. He was named Alumni Distinguished Professor in 1963. He transformed a small undergraduate art department into a major center for graduate studies in both art history and studio art. He vigorously led the movement that culminated in the construction of the Hanes Art Center; the library in that building is named in his honor. Under the guidance of his discerning eye, the collection of art gathered in the Ackland Art Museum evolved into one of the most distinguished among American university museums.

Joseph Sloane was a Lieutenant Commander in the United States Naval Reserve in the Pacific Theater during World War II. His Bachelor of Arts, Master of Fine Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are all from Princeton University. From Princeton he went on to appointments at Rutgers University and Bryn Mawr College before moving to Chapel Hill. In 1951 his seminal book, French Painting between the Past and the Present, was published by the Princeton University Press; in 1973 it was reissued in paperback. This groundbreaking work brought art criticism to bear on major issues of art history and profoundly changed the study of French nineteenth-century painting as a result.

Joseph Sloane was an active advocate of the arts at the local, state, and national levels. He was a trustee of the North Carolina Museum of Art from 1962 to 1983 and past president of the North Carolina State Art Society. He has served as the president of the College Art Association of America and is an Honorary Life Member of the Association of Art Museum Directors. In 1993, he was given the Southeastern College Art Conference President's Award. A painting by Henri "Douanier" Rousseau was acquired in his honor by the Ackland Art Museum and another by Georgia O'Keeffe was given to the North Carolina Museum of Art in his name by the North Carolina Art Society. He was presented the Thomas Jefferson Award by this University in 1976.

An erudite scholar and a gifted teacher; a gently persuasive departmental leader; an able and energetic museum director; a visionary whose goals came to fruition by steady day-to-day nurturing; and above all, a man passionately dedicated to the social and personal values of art, Joseph Sloane leaves a unique legacy of devotion and service. This University summons him here today for signal recognition with this honorary Doctor of Letters degree.

Honorary Degree Recipient
Jane Shelby Richardson
Doctor of Science

Jane Richardson, in collaboration with her husband David Richardson and other scientists, has designed a number of artificial proteins. Her work has been widely acclaimed for the amino acid composition of real proteins in these designs. Her research has moved the world of science dramatically closer to an understanding of how proteins "fold," or arrange themselves, into their various functions in nature. She began her career as a crystallographer that led, in turn, to her discovery of the three-dimensional structure of real proteins. As a protein scientist, she also has brought her artistic skill to the design and drawing of protein shapes. These renderings have been reproduced widely in textbooks and other scientific literature.

A graduate of Swarthmore College and Harvard University, Jane Richardson is today James B. Duke Professor of Biochemistry at Duke University. Having worked as a Technical Assistant in the Department of Chemistry at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and General Physical Scientist at the National Institutes of Health, she arrived at Duke in 1970. She is author of more than forty scholarly publications. She has been elected a member of the National Academy of Sciences and named one of the prestigious MacArthur Fellows.

The Sterling Professor of Molecular Biophysics and Biochemistry at Yale University, Frederic M. Richards, has written that "in the area of analysis and codification of protein structures, she is today without peer. Her body of work represents a major contribution to our understanding of protein structure and function." For a career that has led to groundbreaking discoveries in structural biology, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill proudly salutes Jane S. Richardson with this honorary Doctor of Science degree.

“The Bicentennial Observance is a magnificent opportunity that will never come again. Dare to think big. And to dream.”

Charles Kuralt, former CBS newsmen and one of Carolina's most beloved alumni to the Kenan Stadium Convocation: "I speak for all of us who could not afford to go to Duke," Kuralt said. "And would not even if we could have."

That was the Bicentennial Observance Planning Committee's charge in 1986 when it began developing the blueprint for the University's 200th anniversary celebration.

The eight-month Bicentennial Observance, which began October 12, 1993, and concludes today with commencement 1994, seems a passing dream. The 200th anniversary celebration has been nothing short of magnificent with its rich and exciting events, meaningful message, and enduring legacy.

basketball coach Dean Smith presented an authentic sapling from the legendary Davie Poplar tree to a public school student from each of North Carolina's 100 counties. Anne Repp, event coordinator said, "The children loved being on campus, meeting Dean Smith, and organizing their own planting ceremonies back home with their classmates." One boy wrote an essay about the tree. "If I were Davie Poplar, I'd be big and strong," he said, "but I could not play ball and I could not talk to girls."

The UNC Bicentennial Commemorative Suite, written by distinguished alumnus and Broadway composer Richard Adler, premiered during the Opening Ceremonies. The critically acclaimed concert launched the Bicentennial Performing Arts Series, celebrating art and culture in North Carolina. On February 4 and 5, Bland Simpson and Jack Herrick of the famous Red Clay Ramblers presented their new musical, Tar Heel Voices, which took audiences on a delightful and irreverent romp through Carolina's storied past. The series concluded on April 16 with Dance Carolina!, an evening spotlighting noted North Carolina companies and choreographers such as Jack Arnold, Chuck Davis, and Jane Comfort.

The Bicentennial Observance teamed up with nationally acclaimed artists, including North Carolina's favorite son, Bob Timberlake, to illustrate five U.S. postal cachets (envelopes) and a postal card. Ten million postal cards depicting the historic Playmakers Theatre were issued nationwide. The cachet series featured the original works of Pulitzer Prize-winning cartoonist Jeff MacNelly; North Carolina artists Maud Gatewood and David Stone; Dallas, Texas, illustrator Bart Forbes; and Washington, D.C., muralist Allen (Big Al) Carter. Big Al worked with twenty-five students to create a thirty-foot mural depicting the student Bicentennial theme of community. This bold, vibrant mural can be seen adjacent to the Frank Porter Graham Student Union Auditorium.

Students selected the theme of community not only for the mural, but also for the more than thirty other student-organized events and programs throughout the year. From the Carolina's Cultures series to the first-ever National Student Leadership Summit, Bicentennial-year students have left an indelible mark on the University. They have encouraged us to reexamine the ideals of community, and to begin planning thoughtfully for Carolina's third century of service.

The Bicentennial has presented a unique opportunity to build on our past and prepare for our future. It has included dozens of symposia, conferences, and lectures focusing on issues of health, education, race, and free expression.

Some of the world's most important scholars and speakers have visited campus to share their insights. The Bicentennial Lecture Series was launched by Li Lu, deputy leader of the 1989 Tiananmen Square Demonstrations, who described of Chinese students as "ready to face death to fight for a life that is worth living." In

November, Cornel West, author of the best-seller Race Matters, visited campus and addressed the issue of citizenship, emphasizing that the most important role of education is "to keep alive the art of public conversation." The series also included Elie Wiesel, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize; Stephen J. Gould, scientist and philosopher; Wilma Mankiller, chief of the Cherokee Nations; and Marion Wright Eddleman, director, Children's Defense Fund.

The Bicentennial has celebrated the "life of the mind" not only in Chapel Hill, but throughout North Carolina.

Milestones

1776 Approximately five months after the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the first constitution of the state of North Carolina calls for the establishment of a public university.

1789 The N.C. General Assembly charts a degree-conferring university and establishes a Board of Trustees with 40 members to oversee that institution. On Dec. 21, the University acquires its first piece of scientific equipment, a compass.

1792 A site for the University is chosen, near New Hope Chapel in Orange County.

1793 The Board of Trustees authorizes construction of the first President's House on the site where Swain Hall stands today. The cornerstone is laid for Old East, the first state university building in the United States, on Oct. 12.

1795 The University opens for operation on Jan. 15 and becomes the nation's first state university. Feb. 12 marks the arrival of the first student at Carolina. According to legend, Hinton James of New Hanover County (Wilmington) walks to Chapel Hill to enroll as its first student. The Debating Society forms, followed by the Concord Society. Soon renamed Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies and modeled after the Whig Society at Princeton, these are the oldest student organizations on campus.

1797 Enrollment at the University reaches about 100 students.

1798 Builders lay the cornerstone of Main (South) Building. The University holds its first commencement exercises at which diplomas are granted and seven young men graduate on July 4.

1804 Joseph Caldwell is named the first president of the University.

1812 Robert Hett Chapman becomes University president.

1816 Joseph Caldwell again becomes University president.

1818 James K. Polk, who will become president of the U.S., graduates from UNC. The first documentation of the "Old Poplar" (Davie Poplar) in a University report.

Bicentennial Campaign

As Carolina moves into its third century, the entire campus will benefit from the Bicentennial Campaign for Carolina, the University's first comprehensive fund-raising campaign. With solicitation not scheduled to end until June 1995, alumni and friends already have given or pledged more than $330 million.

To capitalize on the campaign's momentum and to continue to meet the University's needs, the campaign's thirty-seven-member steering committee raised the goal from $320 to $400 million in December 1993. In a concentrated effort volunteers are conducting a series of regional mini-campaigns throughout North Carolina and the East Coast.

The campaign has already increased the University's endowment by $59 million in gifts paid and another $47 million pledged. The broadest measure of the University's endowment is $450 million, which includes the University's own endowment funds and those held by the sixteen foundations associated with the University.

Approximately 580 new endowed funds have been created to benefit nearly every area of the University.

Seventy-two distinguished Carolina teachers and scholars participated in the Bicentennial Speakers for North Carolina, traveling to communities throughout the state to speak about challenging issues of today and tomorrow. Nearly 200 speeches were delivered at civic clubs, public schools, and professional association meetings — with topics ranging from genetics to jazz. Professor Richard Beckman, whose lecture was entitled "A Photographic Wildlife Journey Across America," wrote of his experience, "I have wonderful memories from towns like Kannapolis, Little Washington, and Spindale, and a great sense of pride in the Bicentennial Speakers Bureau. I have learned more than I have taught, and have been moved by the love people have for their University."

Not only did the speakers bureau take the University on the road, but the University invited citizens of North Carolina to campus for Carolina Saturday, April 9. A breathtaking schedule offered more than 140 events.

Highlights of the day included a technology showcase, a twenty-first century classroom, a "stupendous" physics show, a health and fitness fair, horse and buggy tours of campus, Renaissance music, readings by Southern authors, and a symphonic band concert on the quad.

Several years ago, after a long and arduous planning meeting, one committee member said, "Thank goodness we only have to do this once every 200 years!" The Bicentennial Observance could never live up to the extraordinary achievements and successes of the University. The goal from the beginning was to capture as much as possible of the spirit that has sustained this place on the hill for 200 years, champion the themes that have guided it, explore the challenges that face it, and to salute the people of North Carolina who have built and nurtured it.

1819 Denison Olmsted publishes Outlines of the Lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology Delivered at the University of North Carolina, and William A. M. Hooper publishes A Short System of Latin Prosody: Containing All the Necessary Rules and Directions for Scanning Hexameter Verse, and Horace's Lyrics, With Ease and Advantage are the first books published by UNC faculty.

1824 Professor Caldwell travels to Europe to obtain books for the library and scientific equipment. The astronomical instruments he buys in London become the basis of an observatory. Professor Nicholas M. Hentz publishes a series of papers on spiders, the beginning of scientific research conducted at the University.

1831 Construction of the Observatory is completed, the first erected for any college in America. Although the building is destroyed by fire in 1838, a new observatory is built shortly thereafter.

1835 David Swain becomes University president. Elisha Mitchell measures a peak in the Black Mountains of Yancey County and finds it to be almost 250 feet taller than New Hampshire's Mount Washington, which until then was thought to be the highest peak on the American Continent east of the Rockies.

1843 The Alumni Association forms on May 31.

1844 President David L. Swain organizes the Historical Society of North Carolina, beginning an extensive collection of North Caroliniana that will serve as the foundation of both the present-day North Carolina Collection and the Southern Historical Collection.

1847 U.S. President James K. Polk attends commencement.

1849 Kemp Plummer Battle graduates. He will be president of the University, 1876-1891.

1858 Enrollment reaches 456 students, the peak prior to the Civil War. Only Yale University has a greater enrollment than UNC.

1860 The Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA) organizes on campus.

1861 Civil War begins.

1862 The student body dwindles to seventy because large numbers of students volunteer for service and the Confederate government initiates the draft.

1865 4,000 Union cavalry under command of General Smith Atkins arrive in Chapel Hill and occupy the town. Union troops allegedly keep their horses in the library, Old West, and South Building. President Swain's daughter Eleanor marries General Atkins, causing a scandal.

1867 U.S. President Andrew Johnson attends commencement and is initiated into the Dialectic Society.

is in many ways
what ought to be America's theme today, how we can be more together than we are apart.

As one who grew up in the South, I have long admired this university for understanding that our best traditions call on us to offer that light and liberty to all. Chapel Hill has always been filled with a progressive spirit. Long before history caught up with him, your legendary president, Frank Porter Graham, spoke this simple but powerful truth: "In the South, two great races have fundamentally a common destiny in building a nobler civilization, and if we go up, we go up together." What a better life we might have had if more had listened sooner.

Now, after 200 years of this university, we find ourselves a people of more than 150 different racial and ethnic groups confronting a challenge in this new era which tests our belief in the future, tests our courage to change, and tests our commitment to community — to going up together.

I think we can say we know some things about why we are resisting change, and what we might do to make ourselves more like the founders of this great university, more like the founders of our great nation, more like most of the students 1871 The Board of Trustees, responding to the precipitous decline of the University during Reconstruction, closes its doors.

1875 The state legislature passes a bill enabling the University to reopen, on Sept. 15, following Reconstruction. The University reopens thanks in large part to the efforts of Cornelia Spencer. She climbs the bell tower of South Building to ring the bell, notifying Chapel Hill of the good news.

1876 Albert Ledoux is appointed head of the Agricultural Experiment Station. Ledoux, who holds a Ph.D. from Göttingen University in Germany, is the first faculty member to have a doctorate.

1877 The University announces that it will begin conferring graduate degrees up to and including doctorates. Women first enroll as University students in the summer school for teacher training. At the request of President Battle, the University Executive Committee establishes Oct. 12 as a perpetual holiday to commemorate the laying of the cornerstone of Old East on that day in 1793.

1879 Charles Force Deems establishes the Deems Fund in memory of his son. It is the first scholarship fund for needy students at the University. The University's Executive Committee establishes the School of Medicine under Dr. Thomas W. Harris on Feb. 12.

1883 The University grants its first Ph.D. to William Battle Phillips and its first earned M.A. to Henry Horace Williams.

1886 The Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies combine their library collections with the University Library holdings, creating UNC's first centralized library.

1888 UNC and Wake Forest square off in Carolina's first intercollegiate football game on Oct. 18. Wake Forest wins 6-4.

1891 George Taylor Winston succeeds Kemp P. Battle as president of the University. The University has an enrollment of only 200 students when President Winston takes office. John Motley Morehead graduates. He later cofounds Union Carbide and makes many gifts to the University, including the Morehead Planetarium and the Morehead Scholarship program.

1893 Calcium carbide made by former student John Motley Morehead is identified by Professor Francis Preston Venable and his students, William Rand Kenan, Jr., and Thomas Clarke. They discover a new and inexpensive method of producing acetylene by using calcium carbide, which lays the foundation for the Union Carbide Company.

1895 The University confers upon Cornelia Spencer the honorary degree of LL.D., the first such distinction for a woman at the University.

Ring in the Third Century of Public Higher Education

The Bicentennial Observance officially ends today — and the third century of public higher education begins — when bells from the Morehead-Patterson Bell Tower ring over Kenan Stadium at noon. Communities across the state will help Carolina herald its third century by sounding bells simultaneously. Hundreds of bells will chime in all corners of the Tar Heel state from the Roseboro Town Hall in Sampson County to Seymour Johnson Air Force Base in Wayne County; from Duke University to the Madison County public schools; from the Elizabeth II state historic site in Manteo to the Valdese Fire Station in Burke County. All will unite in an historic moment for North Carolina — the birthplace of public higher education.

Bicentennial Fanfare

After the conferring of degrees, herald trumpeters symbolically representing the sixteen campuses of The University of North Carolina System will perform a special rendition of the Bicentennial Fanfare. Jim Hile, director of University bands, wrote the Bicentennial Fanfare. The trumpeters will perform this extraordinary musical salute to the nation's first public university in antiphonal response throughout Kenan Stadium.

here on any given day at this university. The mission of every university must be to be in the vanguard of helping the American people to recover enough personal security to be able to make the changes that we are so urgently called on to make.

The security I seek for America is like a rope for a rock climber, to lift those who will take responsibility for their own lives to greater and greater pinnacles. The security I seek is not government doing more for people but Americans doing more for ourselves and for our families, for our communities and for our country. It is not the absence of risk, it is the presence of opportunity. It is not a world without change but a world in which change is our friend and not our enemy.

*Now, after 200 years of this university, we find ourselves a people of more than 150 different racial and ethnic groups confronting a challenge in this new era which tests our belief in the future, tests our courage to change, and tests
our commitment to community — to going up together.*

We honor today the men and women who had the courage to create a new university in a new nation. We must, like them, be builders and believers, the architects of a new security to empower and embolden America and The University of North Carolina on the eve of a new century.

President Clinton delivered the keynote address during opening ceremonies of the Bicentennial Observance on Oct. 12, 1993.

1896 President Winston resigns and is succeeded by Edwin A. Alderman. At the beginning of Alderman's administration, the University has only sixteen faculty members.

1897 The Board of Trustees passes an ordinance authorizing admission of women to postgraduate work at the University. University president Alderman decides to replace the ramshackle shelter over the school well. His design for the new shelter will become the symbol of the University, affectionately known as the "Old Well."

1898 Sallie Walker Stockard becomes the first woman to receive an earned degree from The University of North Carolina.

1900 President Alderman resigns to become president of Tulane University, and he is succeeded by Francis P. Venable, a professor of chemistry since 1880.

1901 President Venable establishes the College of Liberal Arts as the first distinct school within the University. Louis Round Wilson begins to organize the North Carolina materials into a special department of the library. In 1917 Mary Lindsay Thornton is appointed the first librarian of the North Carolina Collection.

1903 The M.D. degree is conferred for the first time in the University's history. It is awarded to four students on May 7. UNC establishes a Graduate Department and appoints Charles Alonso Smith as the first dean. William C. Coker begins designing UNC's first campus garden, now known as the Coker Arboretum. Henry R. Totten develops a drug garden to teach students about medicinal plants.

1904 James Horner Winston becomes the University's first Rhodes Scholar. Phi Beta Kappa organizes a chapter on campus to enrich academics.

1905 Francis P. Venable, UNC president, becomes the first UNC faculty member elected to the American Philosophical Society. Venable is best known for his research on zirconium, an element found in the Western part of the state.

1907 The Carnegie Library opens, a gift from industrialist Andrew Carnegie. It later becomes Hill Hall and houses the music department.

1908 William C. Coker founds the UNC Herbarium, a collection of pressed, dried, and mounted plant specimens. Designated a national resource center in 1974, the Herbarium is now the preeminent national collection documenting the flora of the Southeastern United States.

1911 Archibald Henderson, professor of mathematics, publishes George Bernard Shaw: His Life and Works, A Critical Biography, the first of three authorized biographies of Shaw. Henderson's volumes on Shaw have been described as "highpoints in the art of biography."

Flag for the Third Century

The Flag for the Third Century, presented today to Chancellor Paul Hardin by the students, commemorates the Bicentennial Observance through its design.

The flag incorporates the theme for the Bicentennial year —

“First in the Nation” — along with the official University seal.

The middle stripe of the flag includes the symbol of a torch, which served as the logo for the Bicentennial Class of 1994. The image unites the classic notions of light and liberty and the passing of the torch of leadership and knowledge. Its handle consists of three bars, each representing a century of public higher education.

Kevin Moran, chairman of the Student Bicentennial Planning Committee, will present the flag. UNC-Chapel Hill Professor of Sociology, Peter Uhlenburg, his wife Pam, and ten of their fourteen children will assist in the presentation. The Uhlenburgs’ remarkable family, comprised of members from very different backgrounds, represents the qualities of diversity, community, love, devotion, and sacrifice — ideals which the University proudly honors today as it enters its third century.

1912 William deBerniere MacNider begins publishing results of his laboratory research: that Bright’s disease could be prevented or remedied by administering an alkali (such as sodium bicarbonate). MacNider’s work furnishes the basis for the French and British armies’ medical treatment of soldiers during World War I and saves thousands of lives.

1914 Edward Kidder Graham becomes University president. Austrian archduke Franz Ferdinand assassinated by a Serbian, beginning World War I.

1915 Former U.S. president William Howard Taft delivers the first Weil Lecture on American Citizenship, established by the families of Henry and Sol Weil.

1918 President Edward K. Graham dies during an influenza epidemic. He is replaced by acting president Marvin H. Stacy. Frederick H. Koch founds the Carolina Playmakers, which becomes nationally recognized for the promotion of native playwriting, especially regional and folk drama.

1919 Harry Woodburn Chase becomes University president.

1920 Howard Odum arrives at the University and launches the Sociology Department and the School of Public Welfare. On Jan. 28, the University establishes a publishing body, the University of North Carolina Press, the first university press in the South. It begins operation in 1922. Thomas Wolfe graduates from the University.

1922 UNC becomes the 25th member of the Association of American Universities, an organization of U.S. and Canadian institutions achieving distinction in graduate study and research.

1923 UNC Press publishes its first book, The Saprolegniaceae, with Notes on Other Water Molds, by William C. Coker.

1924 UNC founds the Institute for Research in Social Science (IRSS) with Howard W. Odum as director. The first institute of its kind in the world, IRSS has been a model for social science research institutes ever since.

1925 Smith Hall, now called Playmakers Theatre, becomes the first state university building dedicated to the creation of native dramatic art through the American folk play.

1926 William Rand Kenan, Jr., announces his gift to the University of a sports stadium, to become Kenan Memorial Stadium, on Nov. 13.

1927 Paul Green, professor of philosophy and later professor of dramatic art, wins the Pulitzer Prize for Drama. Susan Grey Akers publishes Simple Library Cataloging, which goes through five editions and is translated into four foreign languages.

1929 The new University Library (now Wilson Library) is completed and dedicated on Oct. 19. New York Stock Market crashes; Great Depression begins. Thomas Wolfe publishes Look Homeward Angel. Guy B. Johnson publishes John Henry: Tracking Down a Negro Legend. A painstaking survey of over 30 versions of the ballad, it describes how the original story evolved into myth and aptly demonstrates the subtleties and complexities of black folk culture.

1930 Frank Porter Graham becomes University president.

1931 The Morehead-Patterson Memorial Bell Tower rings for the first time. Donated by John Motley Morehead and Rufus Lenoir Patterson, it is dedicated on Nov. 26. Albert and Gladys Coates found the Institute of Government.

1937 University professor Paul Green initiates the first outdoor drama in the United States, The Lost Colony, in Manteo, N.C.

1938 U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt speaks at Woollen Gym on Dec. 5 and receives an honorary LL.D. degree.

1940 William deBerniere MacNider is the first UNC faculty member to be elected a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

1942 The Institute of Government becomes a University agency.

1948 UNC trustees approve the establishment of a Division of Medical Sciences and Services to administer and coordinate the work of the North Carolina Memorial Hospital and the Schools of Medicine, Public Health, Dentistry, Nursing, and Pharmacy. Later, its name is changed to the Division of Health Affairs.

1951 The U.S. Court of Appeals directs the University to admit black students to its Law School on June 6. That summer, four black students attend and begin racial integration at the University.

1952 N.C. Memorial Hospital opens as a university-related teaching hospital.

1953 Robert Langdell, Robert Wagner, and Kenneth M. Brinkhous develop the partial thromboplastin time test, a one-stage procedure that detects the presence of blood clotting disorders.

1955 In response to a federal court order, the University admits black undergraduate students. President Gordon Gray resigns.

1956 William C. Friday becomes University president.

1957 The University basketball team wins the NCAA championship under Coach Frank McGuire. William B. Aycock becomes chancellor.

1958 The Ackland Art Museum opens, dedicated to acquiring, studying, and exhibiting art from a variety of cultures.

1961 U.S. President John F. Kennedy speaks at Kenan Stadium and receives an honorary degree. Basketball Coach Frank McGuire is replaced by an assistant, Dean Smith.

1963 The North Carolina General Assembly passes the Speaker Ban Law, which forbids Communists or suspected Communists from speaking on publicly funded campuses. The state legislature renames the state-supported educational institutions that make up the University of North Carolina. Hereafter, the campus at Chapel Hill is known as The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

1966 J. Carlyle Sitterson succeeds William B. Aycock as chancellor. The Carolina Population Center is established to coordinate a University-wide program in population and to facilitate interdisciplinary research and training.

1967 The Black Student Movement forms.

1968 Arthur C. Stern, known to colleagues worldwide as "Mr. Air Pollution Control," comes to UNC-Chapel Hill, where he builds one of the largest and most prestigious air pollution and industrial hygiene programs in the nation.

1969 Blyden Jackson becomes the first black full professor at UNC-Chapel Hill. Food service workers at the University go on strike in an effort to win better working conditions and higher wages.

1972 Ferebee Taylor becomes chancellor. George A. Kennedy of Classics publishes The Art of Rhetoric in the Roman World, 300 B.C.-A.D. 300.

1974 The University library acquires its two millionth book.

1975 Karen Stevenson becomes the first black woman to receive a Morehead Scholarship. Four years later, in 1979, she becomes the first black woman in the U.S. to receive a Rhodes Scholarship. The University patents the Hulka clip, developed by Jaroslav Hulka. This device has been used safely and effectively to sterilize millions of women in the United States and abroad.

1976 Blyden Jackson publishes The Waiting Years: Essays on American Negro Literature.

1977 Jane English of Philosophy publishes Sex Equality, a collection of feminist essays aimed at philosophers.

1979 Women now outnumber men on the Carolina campus.

1980 Christopher C. Fordham III becomes chancellor.

1983 William Leuchtenburg of History publishes In the Shadow of FDR: From Harry Truman to Ronald Reagan, which runs through six editions.

1984 Walter Royal Davis Library opens on Feb 7. It is formally dedicated on April 27, 1985.

1985 Medicine's Joseph Pagano, John Sixbey, Nancy Raab-Traub, and John Nedrud prove that the Epstein-Barr virus enters the epithelial cells which line the throat during a mononucleosis infection.

1986 Barbara S. Hulka of Epidemiology leads a National Academy of Sciences study that highlights the health problem of "secondhand smoke."

1987 Frederick P. Brooks, Jr., is appointed by President Ronald Reagan to serve on the National Science Board, the governing body of the National Science Foundation.

1988 Paul Hardin becomes chancellor.

1989 Doris W. Betts of English receives the Award of Merit Medal for the Short Story from the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters. Amir Rezvani of the Skipper Bowles Center for Alcohol Studies discovers that a strain of rat, which voluntarily drinks alcohol, can aid in the discovery of compounds that reduce alcohol intake.

1991 J. Stephen Haskill of Obstetrics and Gynecology and Albert S. Baldwin, Jr., from Biology, isolate, clone, and describe I kappa B, a gene which apparently enables the body to control inflammation and might also play a key role in controlling the reproduction of viruses.

1992 Researchers from Medicine and Pathology — Beverly H. Koller, John N. Snouwaert, Nadia N. Malouf, Richard Boucher, Jr., and Oliver Smithies — develop a strain of mice with cystic fibrosis. The existence of an animal model will enable researchers to test new therapies for cystic fibrosis. Margaret Blanchard of Journalism and Mass Communication publishes Revolutionary Sparks: Freedom of Expression in Modern America, which is nominated for a Pulitzer Prize.

1993 Bicentennial Observance celebrates 200 years of University history since the cornerstone of Old East was laid. The men's basketball and women's soccer teams win national championships.

Notes on Academic Dress

The following information, condensed from An Academic Costume Code and Ceremony Guide and prepared by the American Council on Education, may be helpful in identifying the costumes in the Academic Procession.

The history of academic dress dates back to the Middle Ages in Europe when scholars at the oldest universities were clerics. Capes with hoods and warm caps were needed in cold, drafty buildings. The desire for a uniform appearance ("well born, well turned-out, and somewhat learned," read one medieval formula) and for marks to distinguish bachelors, masters, and doctors led to the development of today's academic costume.

In 1895, representatives from American colleges and universities met at Columbia University and fashioned a standard code of academic dress for this country. The code, although modified in 1959, is still used. The costumes, colors, trimmings, and patterns are traditional, and refer to the specific degree and field of study.

The bachelor's gown, designed to be worn closed, has pointed sleeves. The master's gown, which may be worn open or closed, has oblong sleeves, open at the wrist, that hang nearly to the ground; the back part of its oblong shape is square cut, and the arc in the front is cut away. The doctor's gown may be worn open or closed, and has bell-shaped sleeves.

Bachelors' and masters' gowns are untrimmed. Doctors' gowns are usually faced with black velvet, with three bars across the sleeves, although the color of the velvet may vary depending on the field of study. Hoods, which differ in length for the three degrees, are lined with official colors of the university or college that conferred the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. Some colors you will see on faculty and administrators' robes are: the crimson of Harvard, the maroon of Chicago, the light blue and white of North Carolina, the orange and black of Princeton, and the dark blue of Yale.

Hoods also are edged and bound with velvet in the color appropriate to the field of study. You will see many hoods in our procession edged with dark blue, for doctor of philosophy (Ph.D.). The colors in the hoods and gowns of faculty represent the following fields in which degrees were taken:

Apricot: Nursing	Olive-Green: Pharmacy
Brown: Fine Arts	Orange: Engineering
Citron: Social Work	Pink: Music
Crimson: Journalism	Purple: Law
Dark Blue: Philosophy	Sage Green: Physical Education
Golden Yellow: Science	Salmon Pink: Public Health
Green: Medicine	Scarlet: Theology
Lemon-Yellow: Library Science	Yellow-Brown: Commerce, Business, Accountancy
Light Blue: Education	White: Arts, Letters, Humanities
Lilac: Dentistry

Degree Abbreviations

During today's ceremony, Class of 1994 marshals holding signs representing each degree program will lead candidates for graduation to their seats. The following list explains the abbreviations on the signs.

A.B.: Bachelor of Arts	B.S.Radi.: Bachelor of Science in Radiologic Science
A.B.Educ.: Bachelor of Arts in Education	B.S.S.T.: Bachelor of Science in Science Teaching
A.B.Jo.M.C.: Bachelor of Arts in Journalism and Mass Communication	Cert.Dent.Hy.: Certificate in Dental Hygiene
B.F.A.: Bachelor of Fine Arts	C.A.S.I.L.S.: Certificate of Advanced Study in Information and Library Science
B.Mus.: Bachelor of Music	C.Gr.Ed.: Certificate of Graduate Study in Education
B.M.Educ.: Bachelor of Music Education	D.D.S.: Doctor of Dental Surgery
B.S.Ad.Ju.: Bachelor of Science in Administration of Criminal Justice	D.P.H.: Doctor of Public Health
B.S.App.Sc.: Bachelor of Science in Applied Science	Ed.D.: Doctor of Education
B.S.B.A.: Bachelor of Science in Business Administration	Dr.Pharm.: Doctor of Pharmacy
B.S.Biol.: Bachelor of Science in Biology	J.D.: Juris Doctor
B.S.Chem.: Bachelor of Science in Chemistry	M.Acctg.: Master of Accounting
B.S.Cl.Sci.: Bachelor of Science in Clinical Laboratory Science	M.A.: Master of Arts
B.S.D.A.T.E.: Bachelor of Science in Dental Auxiliary Teacher Education	M.A.T.: Master of Arts in Teaching
B.S.D.H.: Bachelor of Science in Dental Hygiene	M.B.A.: Master of Business Administration
B.S.Dent.: Bachelor of Science in Dentistry	M.D.: Doctor of Medicine
B.S.Geol.: Bachelor of Science in Geology	M.Ed.: Master of Education
B.S.Math.: Bachelor of Science in Mathematics	M.F.A.: Master of Fine Arts
B.S.M.S.: Bachelor of Science in Mathematical Sciences	M.H.A.: Master of Health Care Administration
B.S.M.T.: Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology	M.Mus.: Master of Music
B.S.Med.: Bachelor of Science in Medicine	M.P.Adm.: Master of Public Administration
B.S.N.: Bachelor of Science in Nursing	M.P.H.: Master of Public Health
B.S.Pharm.: Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy	M.R.P.: Master of Regional Planning
B.S.Phys.: Bachelor of Science in Physics	M.S.: Master of Science
B.S.P.T.: Bachelor of Science in Physical Therapy	M.S.E.E.: Master of Science in Environmental Engineering
B.S.P.H.: Bachelor of Science in Public Health	M.S.I.S.: Master of Science in Information Science
	M.S.L.S.: Master of Science in Library Science
	M.S.N.: Master of Science in Nursing
	M.S.P.H.: Master of Science in Public Health
	M.S.R.A.: Master of Science in Recreation Administration
	M.S.W.: Master of Social Work
	Ph.D.: Doctor of Philosophy

Candidates for Graduate Degrees

The Graduate School

Established 1876

Presented by Dean Henry H. Dearman

Doctor of Education

Gayle Meacham Aughtry, Educational Administration and Supervision, A Study of Design Features in Ten Selected North Carolina Middle Schools. (Dr. Robert A. Pittillo).

Charles David Beck, Educational Administration and Supervision, A Comparison of Church Involvement vs. Noninvolvement as an Indicator of Support to Families with a Child with Disabilities. (Dr. Ronald Wiegerink).

Doctor of Philosophy

John Michael Abrams, Psychology, Young Children's Realization Judgments: Conceptual Understanding, Accuracy, and Implications for Eyewitness Testimony. (Dr. Betty N. Gordon).

Christopher Rolfe Agnew, Psychology, Interdependent Social Behaviors: Behavioral Prediction Using Individual- and DYAD-level models. (Dr. Vaida Thompson).

Indu Bala Ahluwalia, Health Behavior and Health Education, Determinants of Pregnancy Decisions Among Women at Risk for HIV Infection. (Dr. Robert F. DeVellis).

Anna Almarsdottir, Health Policy and Administration, Children's Perceptions of the Role of Medicines in Health, Illness, and Treatment: A Triangulation of Qualitative and Quantitative Methods. (Dr. Abraham Hartzema).

Sandra Regina Goulart Almeida, Romance Languages, Writing from the Place of the O (o)ther: The Poetic Discourse of Transgression in the Works of Virginia Woolf, Clarice Lispector and Teolinda Gersão. (Dr. Fred M. Clark).

John and Ebenezer Pettigrew to their father

3 October 1795

I wrote you about four weeks ago, and informed you that we had the promise of Mr. Kimbal's bed, but he now says that he is in great want of it, but that he cannot bear the thought of our laying on the floor; and said that he would endeavour to procure one for us. I applied [sic] to Mr. Daniel the other day, & he said that he had a spare bed, & that he would speak to Mrs. Daniel concerning it; and if she was willing he would let us have it; he said that he was not acquainted with the terms that beds hired at.

Degree recipients' names are followed by their area of major study, dissertation or project title, and the name of their doctoral adviser.

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this program's content. Any omissions or errors are unintentional.

Kristin Ann Anderson, Biochemistry and Biophysics, In Vitro Approaches for Studying the Mechanism of Skeletal Muscle Excitation-Contraction Coupling. (Dr. Gerhard Meissner).

Monika Ardel, Sociology, Wisdom in the Late Years: A Developmental Approach to Successful Aging. (Dr. Glen H. Elder, Jr.).

Karen Ann Augustine, Cell Biology and Anatomy, Elucidating the Roles and Relationships of Wnt-1 and Wnt-3a with engrailed in Murine Development Using the Antisense Oligonucleotide in Whole Embryo Culture Approach. (Dr. Thomas W. Sadler).

Rachel Narehood Austin, Environmental Sciences and Engineering, Effects of Structure and Symmetry on Compound I Analogs. (Dr. Avram Gold).

Jerry Glen Ballard, Jr., Biomedical Engineering, Evaluation of Several Reconstruction and Compensation Techniques for Improved Quantitative Accuracy in Single Photon Emission Computer Tomography. (Dr. Benjamin M.W. Tsui).

Rebecca Anne Barnhouse, English, Text and Image in the Cotton Hexateuch. (Dr. Joseph Wittig).

Janet Barnsley, Health Policy and Administration, Determinants of Breast Cancer Protocol Selection and Patient Enrollment in Community-Based Cancer Research Organizations: The Role of Protocol Attributes. (Dr. Arnold Kaluzny).

William Douglas Bates II, Chemistry, Metal-to-Ligand Charge Transfer and Charge Separated States. (Dr. Thomas J. Meyer).

Melinda Beth Bauer, Chemistry, Characterization of a Transcription Factor that Binds to a Regulatory Sequence in the Yeast Retrotransposon. (Dr. Beverly J. Errede).

Maria Teresa Bautista, Chemistry, Synthesis and Reactivity of the Phosphinidene Cluster Complexes, $\text{Fe}_3(\text{Co})_2(\mu_3\text{-PR})_2(\text{R}=\text{SiR}_3, \text{H})$: Bifunctional Cluster Building-Blocks for the Preparation of Cluster Oligomers. (Dr. Cynthia K. Schauer).

Bonnie K. Baxter, Genetics and Molecular Biology, Analysis of the Protein-DNA Interactions of NaeI Endonuclease. (Dr. Michael Topal).

Shulamit Bernard, Health Policy and Administration, Delaying Medical Care by Elderly Community Residents: Reasons, Racial Differences, and Effect on Physician Visits. (Dr. Susan DesHarnais).

Mahmut Hakan Berument, Economics, The Effect of Government Structure on Expenditure Financing. (Dr. Richard Froyen).

Carol Dorothy Binzer, Adult and Higher, The Acquisition of Strategic Information by Senior Student Personnel Administrators: An Exploratory Study. (Dr. Timothy R. Sanford).

Keisa Revonda Birdwell, Chemistry, New Methods for Site Specific Analyses of Bovine Prothrombin Fragment I. (Dr. Richard G. Hiskey).

Laura Michelle Boehnlein, Psychology, Pre-choice Screening of Options in Decision Making. (Dr. Lyle V. Jones).

Robert Michael Boerner, Chemistry, Application and Improvement of Diffusion Ordered Spectroscopy for the Study of Biophysical Systems: An Investigational Study of Human Blood Plasma. (Dr. Charles S. Johnson, Jr.).

April Jean Bohannon, Information and Library Science, Anticipatory Socialization: A Study of Entering Students in Library and Information Science. (Dr. Barbara B. Moran).

Cynthia Bolton, Educational Psychology, Construct Validity Study on Professional Relationships. (Dr. Kinnard P. White).

Jessica Karen Booker, Microbiology and Immunology, Attempts to Demonstrate a Pathogenic Role for Natural Autoantibodies Reveal That They are Necessary for Survival. (Dr. Geoffrey Haughton).

Steven Paul Bozeman, Physics, Magnetic Field Effects and Electromagnetic Wave Propagation in Highly Collisional Plasmas. (Dr. William M. Hooke).

Cathy Bradley, Health Policy and Administration, Differences in Length of Stay and Average Daily Charges Attributable to Substance Abuse in Psychiatric Patients. (Dr. Gary Zarkin).

Amarjit S. Budhiraja, Statistics, Multiple Stochastic Integrals and Hilbert Space Valued Traces with Applications to Asymptotic Statistics and Nonlinear Filtering. (Dr. Gopinath Kallianpur).

Bruce S. Burnham, Pharmacy, The Synthesis of Amine-Borane Adducts of Cyclohexylamine, Toluidine, and 3'-Aminodideoxynucleosides and Evaluation of Their Pharmacological Activity. (Dr. Iris H. Hall).

Steven Rolf Browning, Epidemiology, Polychlorinated Biphenyl Exposure and Cancer Mortality in Electric Utility Workers. (Dr. Dana P. Loomis).

Lisa Ann Carl, English, Avoiding Omniscience: A Mimetics for the Late Twentieth Century. (Dr. William Harmon).

Xiannong Chen, Pharmacy, Design, Synthesis, Biological Evaluation, and Molecular Modeling of Novel Nucleoside Analogs as Potential Antitumor and Antiviral Agents. (Dr. Khalid S. Ishaq).

Ming-Yen Cheng, Statistics, On Boundary Effects of Smooth Curve Estimators. (Dr. James Stephen Marron).

Chia Chiao, Pathology, Mechanisms of Promotion of Hepatocarcinogenesis In Vitro. (Dr. William K. Kaufmann).

KyeongAe Choe, City and Regional Planning, Assessing the Accuracy of the Contingent Valuation Method for Valuing Improved Urban Infrastructure in a Developing Country Context. (Dr. Dale Whittington).

Jyoti Chaudhry, Physics, Phenomenology of Sarks and Dileptons. (Dr. Paul H. Frampton).

Henry R. Bryan to his mother

19 January 1853

I arrived here about one o'clock, the day after I left you. Our backs got mired about seven miles from here, and the horses were not able to move them, so they were obliged to take the horses out of the backs, and let the boys ride them up to Chapel Hill on horseback . . .

Margaret M. Commins, Political Science, From Security to Trade in U.S.-Latin American Relations: Explaining U.S. Support for Free Trade with Mexico. (Dr. Lars Schoultz).

David Alan Copeland, Mass Communication, The Freshest Advices Foreign and Domestic: The Character and Content of Nonpolitical News in Colonial Newspapers, 1690-1775. (Dr. Margaret Blanchard).

Chante L. Cox, Psychology, Everyday Sacrifices and Commitment to Interpersonal Relationships. (Dr. Caryl Rusbult).

Robert Colter Cromartie, Computer Science, Structure-Sensitive Contrast Enhancement: Development and Evaluation. (Dr. Stephen M. Pizer).

Deborah Reid Cryer, Curriculum and Instruction, Parents as Informed Consumers of Child Care: What Are Their Values? What Do They Know About the Product They Purchase? (Dr. Richard A. Brice).

Carolyn Anne Currin, Marine Sciences, N₂-Fixation Associated with Zostera Marina Detritus and Standing Dead Spartina Alterniflora. (Dr. Hans W. Paerl).

Isaac Randolph Daniel, Jr., Anthropology, Hardaway Revisited: Early Archaic Settlement in the Southeast. (Dr. Vincas P. Steponaitis).

Paul Sheldon Davies, Philosophy, Evolutionary Functions and Philosophy of Mind. (Dr. William G. Lycan).

Mark Stephen Denker, Chemistry, The Use of Atomic Force Microscopy (AFM) to Study the Surface Roughness Caused by the Ion Beams Used in Secondary Ion Mass Spectrometry (SIMS). (Dr. Richard L. Linton).

Tania Maria Dmytraczenko, Economics, Structural Adjustment Policy and Productivity Growth in the Brazilian State-Owned Telecommunications Sector. (Dr. Alfred J. Field).

Susan D. Docherty, English, Changing Gender Roles During the Eighteenth Century: Defining the Feminine in Women's Fiction and in Samuel Richardson's Sir Charles Grandison. (Dr. James Thompson).

David Joseph Driscoll, Jr., Classics, Irony in Herodotus' Account of the Persian Wars, Books 7-9. (Dr. Philip Stadter).

Degree recipients' names are followed by their area of major study, dissertation or project title, and the name of their doctoral adviser.

Melynda B. Dunigan, Linguistics, The Clausal Structure of Wolof. (Dr. Randall Hendrick).

Richard Durante, Psychology, Inhibitory Effects of Neighborhood Density: The Locus of Orthographic Competition. (Dr. Elliot Hirshman).

Greg David Dzingeski, Chemistry, Solvent Effects on Enzymatic Catalysis. (Dr. Richard V. Wolfenden).

David H. Eberly, Computer Science, Geometric Methods for Analysis of Ridges in N-Dimensional Images. (Dr. Stephen M. Pizer).

Thomas Bertram Eckstein, Environmental Sciences and Engineering, Effects of Advanced Oxidation on the Biodegradability of Aromatic Compounds in Aqueous Solution. (Dr. Frederic K. Pfaender).

Sara Anne Ephross, Epidemiology, Menopausal Status and Lipid Risk Factors in Black and White Women in the Atherosclerosis Risk in Communities (ARIC) Study. (Dr. H. Al Tyroler).

Laurie Elam Evans, Epidemiology, A Case-Control Study of Pregnancy Wantedness and Birth Outcome in Central North Carolina, 1988-1991. (Dr. David A. Savitz).

Kimberly Ann Marie Faust, Sociology, Religion, Fertility, and Women's Employment in the United States: The Importance of Fundamentalism. (Dr. Peter R. Uhlenberg).

Paul J. Feldblum, Epidemiology, Condom and Spermicide Use and the Incidence of HIV Infection. (Dr. James C. Thomas).

Joseph C. Ficarrotta, Philosophy, Contract Theory and Morality in International Relations. (Dr. Bernard R. Boxill).

Thomas F. Fister, Chemistry, Analytical Applications in Environmental Chemistry. (Dr. Richard L. Linton).

Cecil C. Frost, Biology, Vegetation and Natural History of the Albarmar Embayment, North Carolina and Virginia. (Dr. Robert K. Peet).

Kaisong Fu, Parasitology and Laboratory Practice, Mechanism of Recombination in Mouse Hepatitis Virus. (Dr. Ralph S. Baric).

Dan J. Gallimore, Educational Administration and Supervision, The Utilization of the Concepts of Audience and Purpose in the Development of Writing Skills in High School Students. (Dr. Richard C. Hunter).

Lawrence Lowell Garber, Jr., Business Administration, The Role of Package Appearance in Consideration. (Dr. J. Morgan Jones).

Steven Todd Garren, Statistics, Parametric and Nonparametric Modeling of Data Using Sampling Algorithms. (Dr. Richard L. Smith).

Cathryn Ann Geary, Physiology, Cyclic GMP Pathways in Cystic Fibrosis and Normal Human Airway Epithelia. (Dr. Richard Boucher).

Degree recipients' names are followed by their area of major study, dissertation or project title, and the name of their doctoral adviser.

Dennis Keith George, Environmental Sciences and Engineering, An Examination of Applied Issues in Occupational Exposure Assessment. (Dr. Michael Flynn).

Sharon Lynn Gilbert, English, Viewing Things in a Different Shade: Thematic and Structural Unity in the Early Journals of James Boswell. (Dr. Albrecht Strauss).

Sue Ann Greer, Mass Communication, Media Use and Knowledge of National Affairs: The Cycle of Learning from the News. (Dr. Philip Meyer).

Neena Grover, Chemistry, Electrocatalytic and Stoichiometric Oxidation of DNA by Ruthenium. (Dr. H. Holden Thorp).

Victoria F. Guarisco, Chemistry, Characterization of Phospholipid Langmuir-Blodgett Films Using XPS and TOF-SIMS. (Dr. Richard L. Linton).

Peonia Viana Guedes, English, Female Quest Narratives: Margaret Drabble's The Radiant Way, A Natural Curiosity, and The Gates of Ivory. (Dr. Howard Harper).

Mercedes Guijarro-Crouch, Romance Languages, La Representacion del Deseo en la Narrativa de Julieta Campos: Entre el Discurso Femenino y la Estetica Neobarroca. (Dr. Alicia Rivero-Potter).

Leila Marie Gupta, Health Behavior and Health Education, The Effect of Mode of Death on Bereavement Reactions and Health Status Among Widowed Persons. (Dr. Brenda M. DeVellis).

Ingrid J. Hall, Genetics and Molecular Biology, Genetic Analysis of the Acquisition of PALA Resistance in Human-Human Hybrids. (Dr. Thea Tlsty).

Scott Arlen Hamilton, Biostatistics, Locally Linear Estimation of Partially Linear Models. (Dr. Kinh N. Truong).

Christine Fesperman Hanks, English, The Female Aesthetic of Katherine Anne Porter. (Dr. Townsend Ludington).

Marjorie Jane Harris, Religious Studies, American Missions, Chinese Realities: An Historical Analysis of the Cross-Cultural Influences on the Development of North China Union Women's College/Yenching Women's College, 1905-1943. (Dr. Grant A. Wacker).

Tyndall Peacock Harris, Jr., Adult and Higher, Student Diversity and Organizational Change in Student Affairs: An Examination of Differentiation and Integration in Four Liberal Arts Colleges. (Dr. David D. Dill).

Donna R. Hartney, Adult and Higher, Information Systems Project Manager Effectiveness. (Dr. David Clark).

Karen Kirby Helgeson, English, A Study of Closure in the Poetry of Wallace Stevens. (Dr. George Lensing).

Wilhelmena Rae Herritage, Special Education, An Examination of the Strengths and Resources Among African-American Parents With and Without a Child With Disabilities. (Dr. Rune J. Simeonsson).

Sonya L. Holder, Physics, Electron Paramagnetic Resonance of a Hydrogen Defect in Diamond Films. (Dr. Lawrence G. Rowan).

Mary Ann Holm, Anthropology, Continuity and Change: The Zooarchaeology of Aboriginal Sites in the North Carolina Piedmont. (Dr. Vincas P. Steponaitis).

Barbara Jean Hoopes, Operations Research, Flexible-Resource Scheduling. (Dr. Joseph B. Mazzola).

Christopher Simmons Hull, Environmental Sciences and Engineering, Modelling of Ozone Contactors. (Dr. Philip C. Singer).

Mark Salman Humayun, Biomaterial Engineering, Is Surface Electrical Stimulation of the Retina A Feasible Approach Towards the Development of a Visual Prosthesis? (Dr. Roy H. Propst).

Anne Jacobs, Health Policy and Administration, Utilization of General Hospitals by Medicare Patients with Psychiatric Diagnoses and the Effects of Hospital Closures on Medicare Patients with Psychiatric Diagnoses. (Dr. Susan DesHarnais).

Elin Katherine Jacob, Information and Library Science, Sharing Concepts: Communicative Constraints on the Structure of Categories. (Dr. Stephanie W. Haas).

Robert Milton James, Jr., Counseling Psychology, Risk Factors of Sexual Aggression of Black Students on Predominantly African-American College Campuses. (Dr. Duane Brown).

Subramanian Janakiram, Operations Research, Optimal Paging and Prefetching for Memory Management. (Dr. Vidyadhar G. Kulkarni).

Rhonda Baynes Jeffries, Social Foundation, Sounds and Shades of Blackness: Performance Traditions in African-American Teaching Before and After Desegregation. (Dr. George W. Noblit).

Paul B. Johnson, Neurobiology, Cortical Networks for Visual Reaching. (Dr. Aldo Rustioni).

Christopher C. Joneckis, Pharmacology, Sick Red Blood Cell Adhesion to Extracellular Matrix Proteins. (Dr. Leslie V. Parise).

Sara R. Jones, Neurobiology, Regional Differences in Dopamine Regulation by Uptake and Autoreceptors in the Rat Brain. (Dr. R. Mark Wightman).

Ling-Rong Kao, Biochemistry and Biophysics, Structure, Function and Genetic Analysis of the HMG-I-like Mitochondrial Histone HM in the Yeast Saccharomyces cerevisiae. (Dr. Chi-Bom Chae).

David Jonathan Kelman, Toxicology, Characterization of the Free Radicals that Result from the Oxidation of Myoglobin and Hemoglobin. (Dr. Ronald P. Mason).

Suzanne Lee Kirby, Pathology, Bone Marrow Stromal Proteoglycans and Their Roles in Hematopoiesis. (Dr. Stuart A. Bentley).

Lars Johan Kjeseth, Mathematics, A Deformation Theoretic Approach to BRST Cohomology. (Dr. James D. Stasheff).

William M. Knorpp, Philosophy, The New Psychologisms. (Dr. Michael D. Resnik).

William Paul Kory, Health Policy and Administration, The Impact of the Attributes of Cancer Control Protocols on Physician Accrual. (Dr. Arnold Kaluzny).

Martha Jane Kosa, Computer Science, Consistency Guarantees for Concurrent Shared Objects: Upper and Lower Bounds. (Dr. Jennifer L. Welch).

Soonhyun Kwon, Economics, International Capital Mobility in Developing Countries. (Dr. William A. Darity, Jr.).

Winston Churchill Lancaster, Cell Biology and Anatomy, Morphological and Physiological Correlates of Biosonar Vocalization in Bats. (Dr. O.W. Henson, Jr.).

Candice Anita LaPrade, English, The Spiritual Origins of African-American Feminist Discourse. (Dr. Trudier Harris).

Stephen Rogers Lau, Physics, Canonical Variables and Quasilocal Energy in General Relativity. (Dr. James W. York).

Kyunghee Lee, Sociology, Gender Differences in Later Life. (Dr. Peter R. Uhlenberg).

Virginia Snowden Lee, Educational Psychology, The Intellectual as Teacher. (Dr. Kinnard P. White).

Jing Li, Physiology, Adenosine and ATP Synaptic Modulation in the Spinal Substantia Gelatinosa. (Dr. Edward Perl).

Leping Li, Pharmacy, Design, Synthesis, and Biological Evaluation of 2-Phenyl-4-quinolones as Potent Antimitotic Antitumor Agents. (Dr. K. H. Lee).

Ming M. Li, Chemistry, Studies of the Interaction of Ion Beams and Plasmas With Si Surface: Damage and Nucleation. (Dr. Eugene A. Irene).

William McLaurin to his brother[?]

1 August 1859

There are seven of us from Richmond but all are from about Rockingham except myself. . . all of us board together. 4 room in the College building, the other 3 and a Cole from Tennessee room about 250 yds off and we are all at one place or the other alternately when we have leisure. When the rest of the Students see one of us alone they say the rest of the Richmond crowd are not far off. All have to walk about the third of a mile to meals and invariably get together about half way where their paths come together.

Henry M. London to his grandmother

25 February 1897

I have just returned from a "grub-rush" (in the very inelegant terms of a college student), but better known as a "spread," given by a friend of mine You don't know how much fun a fellow has at one of the above named occasions—every one is at his ease and enjoys himself. I had several boys up here (at my room) to my 'possum supper when I returned and they all of course were delighted with it.

Some of the boys said that they had never before eaten any possum and that made it much the nicer for them since they could better appreciate what they had before been unacquainted with. Judge Connor's sons asked me up to eat some turkey &c. with them just after I returned to the Hill.

† Indicates probable candidates for the degree of Juris Doctor with Honors, Juris Doctor with High Honors, or Juris Doctor with Highest Honors.

The degree of Juris Doctor with Honors is awarded to students who: complete the requirements for the Juris Doctor degree; attain a weighted average grade of 3.0 or more, rank in the top third on all law courses taken; and meet a writing requirement of publishable materials.

The degree of Juris Doctor with High Honors is awarded to students who complete all requirements for the Juris Doctor with Honors and who, in the judgement of the faculty, have demonstrated superior legal scholarship in their work.

In certain instances, the degree of Juris Doctor with Highest Honors may be awarded in recognition of exceptionally high performance.

Graduation with Distinction

The University awards specially inscribed diplomas to undergraduates with records of sustained, high-level academic performance.

Undergraduate students in Academic Affairs or Health Affairs who graduate with a 3.5 or better overall grade point average receive diplomas which include the phrase, "with Distinction." Students completing at least forty-five hours of undergraduate coursework at Carolina, while earning a 3.8 or better overall grade point average, receive diplomas inscribed "with Highest Distinction." This designation provides uniform, University-wide recognition of sustained high-level undergraduate performance.

*In the listing of candidates for Baccalaureate degrees, the * symbol indicates a candidate for a degree with distinction based on grade point average prior to the student's final semester.*

† Indicates probable candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine with Honors, Doctor of Medicine with Highest Honors, Doctor of Medicine with Honors and Distinction, or Doctor of Medicine with Distinction.

The Doctor of Medicine with Honors is awarded to graduates with outstanding academic achievement who complete a scholarly paper of superior quality.

The Doctor of Medicine with Highest Honors is awarded to graduates who complete the Distinguished Medical Scholar Program with excellence.

The Doctor of Medicine with Honors and Distinction is awarded to graduates who have an honors grade for each of the four years of medical school and who complete a scholarly paper of superior quality.

The Doctor of Medicine with Distinction is awarded to graduates who have an honors grade for each of the four years of medical school.

William Sidney Mullins Diary

14 November 1840

A Whist party was immediately formed; and we played until ten of'clock, and I then went up with Billy Battle to his room and sat until the supper came. A fine one it was: a noble turkey and two fine possums, with a quantum snff. of potatoes, gravy, bread and coffee . . . After the supper was over, a party of us went down to Peltiers[, and tried to get some "peach liqueur" but the old scamp would not rise. . .

† Indicates probable candidate for the degree of Doctor of Pharmacy with Honors or Highest Honors. Candidates must have a minimum grade point average of 3.2 to graduate with honors and a minimum of a 3.5 grade point average to graduate with highest honors. Students must complete two honors courses with a minimum grade of "B," participate in an Honors Seminar each semester, and write and present a paper originating from an independent study or research project.

† Indicates probable candidates for the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery with Honors who meet the following criteria: an outstanding academic and patient care record; an overall grade point average of 3.5 or higher; and submission of a scholarly paper related to some aspect of dentistry.

Criteria for Graduation with Honors

Graduates wearing gold honors cords on their gowns committed their senior years to excelling academically in the Seniors Honor Program.

To graduate with honors, students must design and execute a significant research or creative project under the guidance of a faculty adviser and successfully defend an honors thesis. Each student defends the thesis before a faculty committee, which recommends successful candidates for graduation with honors. To be eligible for the program, a student must have at least a 3.2 overall grade point average.

Approximately 3,400 Carolina alumni have successfully participated in the Senior Honors Program since it began in 1917. Today's senior class includes nearly 250 graduates who participated in senior honors programs in fifty departments, curricula, and professional schools throughout the University.

The additional accolade of graduation "with highest honors" singles out the exceptionally accomplished student and the thesis that exemplifies the highest possible level of undergraduate scholarship. Not every department recommends candidates for "highest honors" each year.

The Office of Honors in The College of Arts and Sciences administers the Senior Honors Program and the honors curriculum for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.

William Lord DeRosset to his mother

9 November 1851

We have had a "big kick up" since I last wrote. The Students heard that there were no more copies of Pierce's Mathematics in the United States; so they collected all the copies that there were in College and made a bonfire of them. There were some seventy or eighty books. The consequence was that they put our Class (which was studying Calculus) into Astronomy and the sophomore Class (which was studying Analytics) into Philosophy. The supposition is that Pierce's Mathematics (which is the hardest published) will be struck out of the College Course. The Students have been trying to do this for the last ten years.

Your having to learn French seems to me to be a very unnecessary expense of moneye [sic] & time as I think they could as easily have books in english as easily as to have them in french were it not that they wish to drea[n] [sic] the pockets of the common people but let that be as it may they have the advantage and we cant help ourselves so let us take it patiently[.] I suppose that you can learn it in two years anyhow so let them go it in their own way. I don't understand bow it is that you have to recite on [S]undays though I suppose that they have their rules & reasons for that you will do well to conform to all of their rules & regularly and seem to do it cheerfully whether it be so or not—

*My studies are much more laborious than what they were last session.
 They are as follows: Geometry,
 Logarithms, Plane Trigonometry,
 Cicero de Senectete, and Blairs Lectures. In addition to these we study Paley's Theology on Sunday.
 Altho [sic] you are unacquainted with any of these studies, yet you can easily judge, from the number of them, that they are very laborious.
 Six studies pursued at one time are enough to confuse almost any person's mind.*

Graduate Degrees

The Graduate School

Established 1876

Doctor of Education

Kenny Glenn Isenhour, Administration and Supervision, A Comprehensive Model Student Search Policy Based on an Analysis of Existing School Search Policies and Court Decisions. (Dr. Robert A. Pittillo).

Doctor of Philosophy

Thomas Richards Vartan Adajian, Philosophy, Imagination, Games, Pictures: A Critical Examination of Kendall Walton's Mimesis as Make-Believe. (Dr. Robert D. Vance).

Michelle M. Baillargeon, Chemistry, Surface-mediated Electrophilic Additions to Unsaturated Hydrocarbons: Part I. Further Investigation of Hydrohalogenation. Part II. Halogenation. (Dr. Paul J. Kropp).

Jacqueline Steiger Biscardi, Biochemistry, Progein Tyrosine Phosphorylation in the Developing and Mature Avian Retina. (Dr. Patricia F. Maness).

Jonathan T. Briggs, Romance Languages, The Education of the Hero in Eighteenth-Century France as Seen in the Theater of Beaumarchais and the Painting of Boucher. (Dr. George B. Daniel).

Pascale Buaud, Chemistry, A Study of the Stresses in Thermally Grown Palladium and Platinum Silicide Thin Films. (Dr. Eugene A. Irene).

Charles Kirk Burnett, Psychology, Communication Skill Training for Marriage: Modification and Evaluation of the Prevention and Relationship Enhancement Program (PREP). (Dr. Donald H. Baucom).

Jen-Yea Chang, Biology, Characterization of the Coagulation Factor VII-Tissue Factor Interaction. (Dr. Darrel W. Stafford).

Chu-Chih Chen, Biostatistics, Extended Rank and Matched-pair Analysis of Covariance. (Dr. Dana Quade).

Wing-Fai Cheung, Biology, A Study of Factor IX and its Endothelial Cell Binding Site. (Dr. Darrel W. Stafford).

Hyenmi Chung, Environmental Sciences and Engineering, F-specific Coliphages and Their Serogroups, and Bacteroides fragilis Phages as Indicators of Estuarine Water and Shellfish Quality. (Dr. Mark D. Sobsey).

James C. Chung, Computer Science, Intuitive Navigation in the Targeting of Radiation Therapy Treatment Beams. (Dr. Frederick P. Brooks, Jr.).

Edward Leonard Ciolkowski, Chemistry, Detection of Catecholamines by Cyclic Voltammetry. (Dr. R. Mark Wightman).

Keith Spencer Clark, English, Reforming the Black Male Self: A Study of Subject Formation in Selected Works by James Baldwin, Ernest Gaines, and August Wilson. (Dr. J. Lee Greene).

Susan P. Cochran, Counseling Psychology, Covert Prejudicial Attitudes of White Counselors Working with African-American clients. (Dr. Duane Brown).

Steven Lee Collins, Geology, Statistical Analysis of Coal Quality Parameters for the Pennsylvanian System Bituminous Coals in Eastern Kentucky, U.S.A. (Drs. John M. Dennison and Daniel A. Textoris).

Glinda Sue Cooper, Epidemiology, Genetic Susceptibility and Dietary Factors in Ovarian Dysfunction: Galactose Consumption, Metabolism, and Gonadotropin Levels in Women of Late Reproductive Age. (Dr. Barbara S. Hulka).

Martha Alice Copp, Sociology, Beleaguered "Bosses": Human Service Workers in a Sheltered Workshop. (Dr. Sherryl Kleinman).

Carolyn E. Crump, Health Behavior and Health Education, Organizational Correlates of Employee Participation in Ten Federal Worksite Health Promotion and Disease Prevention Programs. (Dr. Jo Anne L. Earp).

Sylvie Doublié, Biochemistry, 2.9 Å Crystal Structure of Bacillus stearothermophilus Tryptophanyl-tRNA Synthetase Complexed to its Adenylate, Tryptophanyl-5'AMP. (Dr. Charles W. Carter, Jr.).

Jeffrey W. Driscoll, Chemistry, Structural and Conformational Analysis of Heterocyclic Organic Compounds by Resonance Enhanced MultiPhoton Ionization. (Dr. Tomas Baer).

Joan Anne Kerns East, Curriculum and Instruction, The Development of Spelling Knowledge in a First Grade Class: The Spelling-Reading Connection. (Dr. Barbara D. Day).

Steffany Garrett Ellis, Economics, Activity in the Forward Market: The Firm and Foreign Exchange Risk. (Dr. Stanley W. Black).

Cheryl Sue Elman, Sociology, Household Structure, Local Contexts, and the Labor Force Attachment of Older American Men in 1910. (Dr. Peter Uhlenberg).

Erwin Paredes Enriquez, Chemistry, α -Helical Polypeptide Monolayers. (Dr. Edward T. Samulski).

Thomas Wade Farmer, Special Education, Social Networks in Mainstream Classrooms: The Social Relations of Students with Behavioral and Emotional Handicaps. (Drs. Ronald P. Wiegerink and Robert B. Cairns).

Arabelle P. Fedora, Information and Library Science, An Exploration of the Scheduling Patterns of Two Exemplary Elementary School Media Centers. (Dr. Evelyn H. Daniel).

James H. Fisher, City and Regional Planning, Rural Development and Migration in Bangladesh. (Dr. Linda Lacey).

Zoey Lynn Fredericks, Chemistry, The Effects of Amino Acid Substitutions in the C-terminal Helix on the Functionality, Structure and Stability of Iso-1-cytochrome c. (Dr. Gary J. Pielak).

Degree recipients' names are followed by their area of major study, dissertation or project title, and the name of their doctoral adviser. Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this program's content. Any omissions or errors are unintentional.

- Barbara P. Fulks, Romance Languages, Representing Bodies in Selected Stories of Julio Cortazar and Luisa Valenzuela. (Dr. Maria A. Salgado).
- Steven E. Geller, Psychology, Children's Coping with Headache: A Process Approach. (Dr. Jaan Valsiner).
- Alan K. Goble, Psychology, The Functional Significance of Vibrotactile Adaptation. (Dr. Mark Hollins).
- Suzanna Paige Hall, Health Behavior and Health Education, Women's Experiences with Chronic Battering: Development and Validation of A Scale. (Dr. Jo Anne L. Earp).
- Elisabeth Hauptman, Chemistry, Design and Study of Olefin Dimerization Catalysts Based on Electrophilic Cationic Late Transition Metal Complexes. (Dr. Maurice S. Brookhart).
- Elizabeth Diane Heineman, History, "Standing Alone": Single Women from Nazi Germany to the Federal Republic. (Dr. Konrad H. Jarausch).
- Peter Anthony Hessling, Social Foundations, To Be "The Best School in Town": An Historical Study of Two Southern Elementary Schools. (Dr. Richard C. Phillips).
- Daniel Hinman-Smith, History, "Does the Work Freedom Have a Meaning?": The Mississippi Freedom Schools, the Berkeley Free Speech Movement, and the Search for Freedom through Education. (Dr. Peter Filene).
- Marcia Metzgar Hobbs, Microbiology, Antigenic Variation and Topology of Opacity Proteins of the Pathogenic Neisseriae. (Dr. Janne G. Cannon).
- Donald G. Hopkins, Psychology, The Item-level Factor Structure of the MMPI. (Dr. W. Grant Dahlstrom).
- Tonya L. Horton, Pharmacy, The Effects of Age on Morphine Pharmacokinetics in the Rat. (Dr. Gary M. Pollack).
- Susan M. Houghton, Business Administration, Cognition and Strategy Making: An Empirical Investigation of Top Management Team Processes. (Drs. Carl P. Zeithaml and Thomas S. Bateman).
- Helen Vivian Hsieh, Chemistry, Investigation of the Interactions Between IgG and a Mouse Fc_γ Receptor Using Total Internal Reflection Fluorescence Microscopy. (Dr. Nancy L. Thompson).
- Diane Carol Hudson, Nursing, Infant Post-operative Pain Behaviors and Nurses' Decision Making. (Dr. Margery A. Duffey).
- William Christopher Hughes, Physics, Indium, Vacancy, and Hydrogen Defects in II-VI Semiconductors. (Dr. Max L. Swanson).
- Todd D. Hultman, School Psychology, Socially Rejected Kindergarteners: Predictive Accuracy of an Assessment Battery. (Dr. Barbara H. Wasik).
- Elizabeth Ann Irlandi, Marine Sciences, Landscape Ecology and the Functions of Marine Soft-sediment Habitats: How Seagrass Landscapes Influence Growth and Survival of a Marine Invertebrate. (Dr. Charles H. Peterson).
- Lee-Ann Jaykus, Environmental Sciences and Engineering, Development of Methods to Concentrate and Purify Human Enteric Viruses in Oysters for Detection by Reverse Transcriptase-Polymerase Chain Reaction and Oligoprobing. (Dr. Mark D. Sobsey).
- Stephen S. Jenks, Political Science, Implementation of Intergovernmental Mandates: Testing a Conflict-based Model. (Dr. Deil S. Wright).
- Kevin B. Johnson, Neurobiology, Relationship of the Expression of the Immediate-early Gene c-fos to D₁-Dopamine Receptor Activation and Behavioral Sensitization in the Neonatal 6-Hydroxydopamine-lesioned Rat. (Dr. George R. Breese).
- Melissa Ann Johnson, Mass Communication, The Latina and Television: Acculturation Stress, English Language Use, and Women's Roles. (Dr. Jane D. Brown).
- Abram Walden Kaplan, City and Regional Planning, Generating Interest in Solar Power: Familiarity and Photovoltaic Adoption Among Electric Utility Managers. (Dr. Raymond J. Burby).
- Aly H. Karam, City and Regional Planning, The Role of Neighborhood Adjustment in the Residential Adjustment Process: The Case of Cairo, Egypt. (Dr. William M. Rohe).
- Richard S. Keating, English, From Conflict to Culture: A Literary Study of Colonial South Carolina's Economic Societies, 1670-1750. (Dr. Philip Gura).
- Jill Hinton Keel, School Psychology, A Study of Moral Reasoning in Adults with Autism. (Dr. Rune J. Simeonsson).
- Cheryl Ann Kelley, Marine Sciences, Physical Controls on Methane Production and Flux from Organic-rich Wetland Environments. (Dr. Christopher S. Martens).
- Jeffrey Matthew Knerr, Physics, Numerical Studies of Ablative Mass Loss from Wind Accelerated Clouds. (Dr. Wayne A. Christiansen).
- Yoshihiro Koide, Chemistry, Two-Electron Redox Reactions and Electron-transfer Chain Catalytic Ligand Substitution Reactions of the Triiron Cluster, Fe₃(CO)₉(μ₃-PM(CO)₂Cp)₂(M=Mn,Fe). (Dr. Cynthia K. Schauer).
- Clifford Matthew Kuhn, History, "A Full History of the Strike as I Saw It": Atlanta's Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills Workers and Their Representations Through the 1914-1915 Strike. (Dr. Leon Fink).
- Jeanne M. Lambrew, Health Policy and Administration, The Use of the Institute of Medicine's Measures to Assess the Effects of Having a Regular Doctor and Waiting Time on Access to Health Care. (Dr. Gordon H. DeFries).
- Helen Susan Langa, Art History, Egalitarian Ideals, Transient Opportunities: Social Realist Printmakers in New York City during the New Deal Era. (Drs. Arthur S. Marks and Mary D. Sheriff).
- John P. Larmann, Jr., Chemistry, Two Dimensional Liquid Chromatography - Capillary Electrophoresis. (Dr. James W. Jorgenson).
- Richard Michael LeLacheur, Environmental Sciences and Engineering, The Reactions of Ozone and Hydroxyl Radicals with Amino Acids in Aqueous Solution. (Dr. William H. Glaze).

- Man-Chi Leung, Psychology, Social Cognition and Social Networks of Chinese School Children in Hong Kong. (Dr. Robert B. Cairns).
- Jing Li, Physiology, Adenosine and ATP Synaptic Modulation in the Substantia Gelatinosa. (Dr. Edward R. Perl).
- Hui Ling, Geology, Asymptotic-numeric Methods to Problems of Seismic Wave Resonances and Diffractions. (Dr. Jose A. Rial).
- Kathryn J. Luchok, Health Behavior and Health Education, Social Support and Women's Health During Pregnancy and Postpartum among the Yoruba of Nigeria. (Dr. Jo Anne L. Earp).
- Sharon Searls Mailey, Curriculum and Instruction, Entry Level Competencies for BSN's to Work with Geriatric Clients in Community Health Settings in North Carolina: A Descriptive Study Comparing Responses by Faculty and Nurses in Community Health. (Dr. Frank T. Stritter).
- Michael J. Margolis, Pharmacology, Analysis of Transcription Regulation During In Vitro Angiogenesis and in Response to Cytomegalovirus Immediate-early Gene Expression. (Dr. Jane Clifford Azizkhan).
- Benoît Robert Mâsse, Biostatistics, Conditional Logsplines Models. (Dr. Young K. Truong).
- Isabel Mathieu-Pelta, Chemistry, Substitution Reactions of 1,3,2λ⁵-Dioxaphospholanes and Spirophosphoranes. (Dr. Slayton A. Evans, Jr.).
- Debra K. McMahon, Pathology, Characterization of a Two Motif Isoform of the Dihydropyridine Receptor in Skeletal Muscle. (Dr. Nadia N. Malouf).
- Jennifer McNulty, Mathematics, Hyperplane Arrangements and Oriented Matroids. (Dr. Thomas H. Brylawski).
- Soledad Miguel-Prendes, Romance Languages, La glosa a la Eneida de Enrique de Villena: La Tradición Exegetica Judeo-Cristiana en el Humanismo Vernaculo Castellano del Siglo XV. (Dr. Frank A. Dominguez).
- Terence R. Moore, Philosophy, Conduct and Community. (Dr. Richard Smyth).
- Alvin Wesley Moore, Jr., Chemistry, Theory and Applications of Optically Gated High Speed Capillary Zone Electrophoresis. (Dr. James W. Jorgenson).
- Patricia Gripka Moorman, Epidemiology, High-density Lipoprotein Cholesterol and Breast Cancer. (Dr. Barbara S. Hulka).
- Gwendolyn C. Murphy, Curriculum and Instruction, Computer Elicitation on the Diagnosis of Chest Pain from Experienced and Inexperienced Medical Practitioners. (Dr. Charles P. Friedman).
- Anupama Narayanan, Operations Research, Stochastic Fluid Flow Models for Polling Systems and Multiclass Queues. (Dr. V.G. Kulkarni).
- Kathryn L. Nasstrom, History, Women, the Civil Rights Movement, and the Politics of Historical Memory in Atlanta, 1946-1973. (Dr. Jacquelyn Dowd Hall).
- Robert G. Paterson, City and Regional Planning, Capacity and Commitment: The Keys to Environmental Regulatory Compliance. (Dr. Raymond Burby).
- Kenneth H. Pearce, Jr., Chemistry, Investigation of the Ca²⁺-dependent Lipid Binding Properties of Prothrombin and Its Fragment 1: Applications Using Total Internal Reflection Fluorescence Microscopy. (Drs. Nancy L. Thompson and Richard G. Hiskey).
- Lucy A. Peipins, Epidemiology, Colorectal Adenomas and Diet, Reproductive History, and Use of Exogenous Hormones. (Dr. Robert S. Sandler).
- Kenneth R. Phares, Pharmacy, Drug Release from Oil-containing Microcapsules. (Drs. James Swarbrick and Keith Johnson).
- Maïke Philipsen, Social Foundations, "Values-Spoken" and "Values-Lived" - Portrait of Black Women's School Experiences in Rural North Carolina. (Dr. George W. Noblit).
- Francisco J. Pichón, City and Regional Planning, Agricultural Settlement, Land Use, and Deforestation in the Ecuadorian Amazon Frontier: A Micro-level Analysis of Colonists' Land-allocation Behavior. (Dr. Richard E. Bilsborrow).
- Fred Christopher Pigge, Chemistry, Rigid Macrocycles as Ligand Supports for Modelling Metalloenzyme Active Sites. (Dr. Thomas N. Sorrell).
- Jonathan A. Powers, Geology, Gold Mineralization and Associated Hydrothermal Alteration in the Robbins District, Moore County, North Carolina. (Dr. P. Geoffrey Feiss).
- Yin-Long Qiu, Biology, Molecular divergence between Asian and North American species of Magnolia sect. Rytidospermum (Magnoliaceae). (Dr. Clifford R. Parks).
- Martine Rey, Comparative Literature, "A Letter is but a Fable": Strategies of Representation in the Correspondence of Women in Seventeenth-Century France and England. (Drs. Yves de la Quèrière and Reid Barbour).
- John S. Rhoades, Computer Science, Shaping Curved Surfaces. (Dr. Stephen M. Pizer).
- Bernadette M. Roche, Biology, The Role of Behavior in a Pollinator-mediated Plant-Pathogen Interaction. (Drs. Leslie Real and Alan Stiven).
- Patricia A. Rogers, Counseling Psychology, An Investigation of the Differences in Life Event Stress in Myofascial Pain and Reflex Sympathetic Dystrophy Syndromes. (Dr. Linda Brooks).
- Clara Roman-Odio, Romance Languages, La Paradoja del Deseo: Reescritura Textual y Reestructuración de Códigos en los Poemas Largos de Octavio Paz. (Dr. Maria A. Salgado).
- Vilma Sousa Santana, Epidemiology, Informal Work, Housework, and Minor Psychological Disorders among Women in Urban Brazil. (Dr. Dana Loomis).
- John A. Santucci, Religious Studies, The Italian Agricultural Colony and Its German Missionary at St. Helena, North Carolina: A Parish History, 1905-1925. (Dr. Laurie Maffly-Kipp).

Degree recipients' names are followed by their area of major study, dissertation or project title, and the name of their doctoral adviser.

Dale Scalise-Smith, Special Education, Characterizing Changes in Postural Strategies for Full-Term Infants: A Motor Learning Paradigm. (Dr. Carol A. Giuliani).

Mary C. Schaad, Parasitology and Laboratory Practice, Genetics of Mouse Hepatitis Virus Transcription: Characterization of Temperature Sensitive Mutants. (Dr. Ralph S. Baric).

Eric Scharrer, Chemistry, Reactions of Electrophilic Iron Complexes with Organosilanes: 1) Insertion Chemistry of Electrophilic Iron Carbene Complexes, 2) Generation and Characterization of Cationic Iron η^2 -Silane Complexes. (Dr. Maurice Brookhart).

Deborah H. Schmiel, Microbiology, Characterization of a Genomic Chlamydia Trachomatis Locus which Promotes Adherence of Recombinant E. coli to Epithelial Cells. (Dr. Priscilla B. Wyrick).

Derk E. Schultz, Pharmacology, Structural Analysis of High Molecular Weight Penicillin-binding Proteins of Neisseria Gonorrhoeae. (Dr. Robert A. Nicholas).

Peggy Lynne Seymour, Statistics, Parameter Estimation and Model Selection in Image Analysis using Gibbs-Markov Random Fields. (Dr. Chuanshu Ji).

Donna M. Shannon, Information and Library Science, Children's Responses to Humor in Fiction. (Dr. Susan Steinfirst).

Neal R. Simonsen, Epidemiology, Nutritional Determinants of Rheumatoid Arthritis. (Drs. Carl M. Shy and Timothy C. Wilcosky).

Joel M. Sipress, History, The Triumph of Reaction: Political Struggle in a New South Community, 1865-1898. (Dr. William L. Barney).

John William Slater, Mass Communication, Communicating Campus Culture: Niche-marketing Messages in College Admissions Material. (Dr. Mary Alice Shaver).

Lyle Byron Snider, Health Policy and Administration, A Health Department Clinic Nurse Staffing Model. (Dr. Kerry E. Kilpatrick).

Ellen Sim Snyder, Biostatistics, The Analysis of Binary Data with Large, Unbalanced, and Incomplete Clusters Using Ratio Mean and Weighted Regression Methods. (Dr. Gary G. Koch).

Nancy Karen Snyder, Information and Library Science, A Cognitive Analysis of Concept Books. (Dr. Susan Steinfirst).

Deborah Lynn Sunick, Chemistry, Coordination Chemistry of the Fe_3P Framework in the Cluster System, $[(\mu\text{-H})_n\text{Fe}_3(\text{CO})_9(\mu_3\text{-P})]^{(3-n)-}$ ($n=2,1,0$). (Dr. Cynthia K. Schauer).

Albert Benjamin Suttle III, Pharmacy, The Gastrointestinal Absorption Characteristics of Ranitidine: The Influence on the Double Peak Phenomenon. (Dr. Kim L.R. Brouwer).

Leonard M. Tender, Chemistry, Linear Sweep Voltammetry in the Marcus Inverted Region: Theory and Application. (Dr. Royce W. Murray).

Randy J. Thresher, Genetics, Studies of RecA, RecT and SEP1 Strand Transferases. (Dr. Jack Griffith).

Lilian Tsappa, Comparative Literature, Renunciation of Political Power as an Element of the Tragic. (Dr. George Kennedy).

Florencia Vargas-Vorackova, Epidemiology, Intercountry and Interspecialty Variations in Appropriateness of Care Criteria: The Case of Diagnostic Upper Gastrointestinal Endoscopy. (Dr. Gordon H. DeFries).

Deborah Jean Vause, English, "And Thanne Saugh I Much Moore": A Comparative Study of the Framing Devices of Medieval and Early Renaissance Dream-poems. (Dr. Joseph Wittig).

Alvin Michael Wade, Genetics, Transcription Factor E2F and Control of Dihydrofolate Reductase Gene Expression. (Dr. Jane C. Azizkhan).

Quentin David Walker, Toxicology, Mechanisms of Dopaminergic Neurobehavioral Activation. (Dr. Richard B. Mailman).

Steven Vance Walton, Business Administration, The Effects of Organizational and Technical Issues of Electronic Data Interchange on the Total Cost of the EDI System. (Drs. Ann S. Maruchek and Ronald T. Pannesi).

Rong Wang, Biology, The Study of Tumorigenesis and Angiogenesis in Transgenic Mice and Cell Culture Systems. (Dr. Victoria L. Bautch).

Douglas John Watson, Epidemiology, The Relationship of Home Tap Water Chlorination to Plasma Lipids, Lipoproteins, and Carotid Artery Wall Thickness: An Ancillary Investigation to the Atherosclerosis Risk in Communities Study. (Dr. Gerardo Heiss).

Ross T. Whitaker, Computer Science, Geometry-limited Diffusion. (Dr. Stephen M. Pizer).

Susan Kathleen Wiser, Biology, Vegetation of High-elevation Rock Outcrops of the Southern Appalachians: Composition, Environmental Relationships, and Biogeography of Communities and Rare Species. (Drs. Robert K. Peet and Peter S. White).

Andrew A. Workman, History, Creating the Center: Liberal Intellectuals, the National War Labor Board, and the Stabilization of American Industrial Relations, 1941-1945. (Dr. William E. Leuchtenburg).

Takashi Yanagawa, Economics, Essays on the Theory of Innovation and Patent Licensing. (Dr. James W. Friedman).

Darrin Michael York, Chemistry, Molecular Dynamics Simulation of HIV-1 Protease. (Dr. Lee G. Pedersen).

Namvar Zohoori, Nutrition, Infant-feeding Patterns and Postpartum Amenorrhea. (Dr. Barry M. Popkin).

Doctor of Public Health

John Robert Feaganes, Biostatistics, Unobservable Heterogeneity in Weibull and Poisson Regression Models; An Application to the Study of Infant Mortality in North Carolina. (Dr. C. M. Suchindran).

Yuan-Li Shen, Biostatistics, Survival Analysis for Fixed or Time-dependent Strata Using the Stratified Spline Proportional Hazards Model. (Dr. Frank E. Harrell, Jr.).

Sandra S. Stinnett, Biostatistics, Collinearity in Mixed Models. (Dr. Ronald W. Helms).

Origin of the University Colors

Light blue and white have been considered the University's colors for more than a century. With the tradition so firmly established, a popular bumper sticker states that God must be a Tar Heel because he made the sky Carolina Blue!

A symbol of unity among Carolina students, alumni, and fans, the school colors were first used around 1800 to distinguish between members of the Dialectic and Philanthropic Literary Societies. Through the nineteenth century, students were required to be members of either the Di or the Phi. The Di's color was light blue, and the Phi's was white.

At University commencements, balls, and other social events, the student officials, managers, and marshals wore the color of their society, blue or white. Because the Chief Marshal or Chief Ball Manager represented the whole student body, not just his society, he wore both colors.

When the University fielded its first intercollegiate athletic teams in 1888, the question of what colors to wear had already been answered. Light blue and white had come to symbolize membership in the University, not in a single society.

Thomas C. Boyd, Business Administration, The Role of Product Category Attributes and Legitimacy in the Adoption of Innovations. (Dr. Charlotte H. Mason).

Jo-Ann K. Brock, Biology, The Effect of a Dicentric Chromosome on the Cell Cycle in Saccharomyces cerevisiae. (Dr. Kerry Bloom).

Adrienne M. Brown, Microbiology and Immunology, Transcriptional Regulation of the Human MHC Class II-Associated Invariant Chain Gene. (Dr. Jenny P.Y. Ting).

Matthew Jay Burbank, Political Science, Explaining Contextual Influences on Political Behavior: Class and Context in Britain and the United States. (Dr. Donald D. Searing).

Stephen B. Burgess, Neurobiology, Transcription in Normal and Injured Spinal Motoneurons. (Dr. D.L. McIlwain).

Lynne Elizabeth Canne, Pharmacy, Synthesis of Modified 4-Hydroxyproline Peptides as Multisubstrate Analogue Inhibitors of Prolyl 4-Hydroxylase. (Dr. Jane Millen).

Seok Chang, Chemistry, Syntheses and Reactions of π -Allyl Iron Tricarbonyl Anion Complexes. (Dr. Maurice S. Brookhart).

Hosoon Chang, Mass Communication, National Security V. First Amendment Freedoms: U.S. Supreme Court Decisions on Anti-communist Regulations, 1919-1974. (Dr. Margaret Blanchard).

Chin-Shyan Chen, Economics, The Demand of Preventive Health Care and Curative Health for Infants in the Developing Country. (Dr. John S. Akin).

Allen Ray Comer, Genetics, Molecular and Functional Characterization of the Ovarian Tumor (otn) Gene from Drosophila melanogaster. (Dr. Lillie L. Searles).

James Francis Cotter, Business Administration, The Effect of Parameter Instability on Tests of Financial Models. (Dr. Jennifer S. Conrad).

Lisa Picciano Coulter, Counseling Psychology, Effects of Therapist Experience and Interpersonal Style on Complementarity of Responses. (Dr. Robert Sakata).

Prabu David, Mass Communication, Accuracy of Perception and Memory for Quantitative Graphics. (Dr. Frank Biocca).

Paul Wayne Davis, Psychology, Development of Similarity on Aggression between Childhood Play Companions: The Roles of Initial Selection, Termination, and Social Influence Processes. (Dr. Janis B. Kupersmidt).

Glenn Donald Deane, Sociology, Parents and Progeny: The Demography of Inequality in Colonial North Carolina, 1680-1759. (Dr. Glen H. Elder, Jr.).

Antone Dias, Jr., Counseling Psychology, A Study of Alienation and Noncognitive Factors Among African American College Students. (Dr. Robert Sakata).

Wendy S. Dower, English, Guthlac A in the Eremitical Tradition. (Dr. Patrick P. O'Neill).

Stephen M. Drigotas, Psychology, Perceptual Congruence of Commitment and Relationship Adjustment. (Dr. Caryl Rusbult).

James Henry Peter Ellis, Sociology, Health Care Decision-making Involvement of Patients and Medical Ideology. (Dr. Robert N. Wilson).

Leah D. Fletcher, Pathology, Cloning and Characterization of Rat-Derived Pneumocystis carinii Genes. (Drs. Richard R. Tidwell and Christine C. Dykstra).

Maria Juana Fraser-Molina, Romance Languages, "Cuentos de la selva" de Horacio Quiroga. Lecturas marginadas. (Dr. Maria A. Salgado).

Degree recipients' names are followed by their area of major study, dissertation or project title, and the name of their doctoral adviser.

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this program's content. Any omissions or errors are unintentional.

John Eric Gant, Romance Languages, El Mono Azul (1936-1939) and Spain's Civil War Poetry. (Dr. Maria Antonia Salgado).

Martha Elizabeth Geores, Geography, The Role of Resource Definition in Maintaining a Sustainable Multiple Use Environment: Viewing the Black Hills National Forest as a Common Property Resource. (Dr. Stephen S. Birdsall).

James William George, Biology, Biochemical and Genetic Studies of Escherichia coli Helicase II. (Dr. Steven W. Matson).

Tracey L. Gersh, Counseling Psychology, Training Directors' Perceptions of Factors Affecting the Incorporation of Lesbian and Gay Issues in Graduate Psychology Programs: An Exploratory Study. (Dr. Linda Brooks).

Michael Gill, Biomedical Engineering, Magnetic Resonance Imaging and Spectroscopic Techniques in the Study of Tumor Biology. (Dr. Lester Kwock).

Philip Kevin Goff, Religious Studies, The Religious World of the Revolutionary John Adams. (Dr. Grant Wacker).

Neil J. Gordon, Chemistry, The Chemistry of α -Acyl Phosphorinanes and Related Compounds. (Dr. Slayton A. Evans, Jr.).

Gerald Delaine Granderson, Economics, The Effects of Rate of Return Regulation on the Transmission Sector of the U.S. Interstate Natural Gas Industry. (Drs. Helen V. Tauchen and C.A. Knox Lovell).

Alfred Volkmar Guender, Economics, Technology, Output, and the Output-Inflation Tradeoff: Three Essays in Macroeconomics. (Dr. Richard T. Froyen).

Richard Lukens Hart, Information and Library Science, The Information-gathering Behavior of the Faculty of a Four-year State College. (Dr. Barbara B. Moran).

Susan Lee Hartmaier, Epidemiology, Validation of the Minimum Data Set as a Measure of Cognitive Impairment. (Drs. Harry Guess and Philip Sloane).

Kevin Joseph Hayes, Health Policy and Administration, The Relative Efficiency of Hospital-based and Freestanding Home Health Agencies in Texas. (Dr. Sally C. Stearns).

Wanda Burns Hedrick, Special Education, The Effect of Wide Reading on Listening Comprehension of Written Text. (Dr. James W. Cunningham).

William Gustav Held, Adult and Higher, Strategic Planning in a Militarily Controlled, Academic Environment. (Dr. Eugene R. Watson).

Steven Edward Hobbs, Chemistry, Effects of Sample Droplets and Particles on Inductively Coupled Plasma Optical Emission and Mass Spectrometries. (Dr. John W. Olesik).

Hilary W. Holladay, English, Holding Together, Breaking Apart: Communities and Relationships in Ann Petry's Fiction. (Dr. Trudier Harris).

Richard L. Holmes, Health Policy and Administration, On the Determination and Reimbursement of Costs in the Provision of Medicaid Services by Local Health Departments. (Dr. William N. Zelman).

Jeffrey Alan Jankowski, Chemistry, Quantal Secretion of Catecholamines from Individual Adrenal Medullary Cells. (Dr. R. Mark Wightman).

A. Bathi Kasturiarachi, Mathematics, Generalized Korteweg-de Vries Equation with Riemann Initial Data. (Dr. Stephanos Venakides).

Kristine S. Kelsey, Nutrition, Social Support as a Predictor of Dietary Change in Low Income Adults. (Dr. Betty Kirkley).

Lon Kent Kightlinger, Parasitology and Laboratory Practice, Mechanisms of Ascaris lumbricoides overdispersion in human communities in the Malagasy rainforest. (Dr. John R. Seed).

Ja Seok Koo, Chemistry, Translational Initiation Region on the Euglena gracilis Chloroplast Ribulose Biphosphate Carboxylase/Oxygenase Messenger RNA. (Dr. Linda L. Spremulli).

Matthew W. Kreuter, Health Behavior and Health Education, Individually-Tailored Behavior Change Feedback and Health Risk Appraisal. (Dr. Victor J. Strecher).

Deanna Marie Larus, Psychology, The Influence of Knowledge on Children's Memory for Personally-Experienced Events. (Dr. Peter A. Ornstein).

Bradley A. Levinson, Anthropology, Todos Somos Iguales: Cultural Production and Social Difference at a Mexican Secondary School. (Dr. Dorothy C. Holland).

James William Lindsey, Chemistry, Characterization of the Electrocatalytic Oxidation of NADH by Meldola Blue at Modified Carbon Electrodes. (Dr. Richard P. Buck).

Carl Burkhardt Linvill, Economics, Diverse Firms and Divergent Technology Trajectories: Essays on the Effects of Worker Participation on Productivity Growth and Innovation. (Dr. James W. Friedman).

Shih-Chia Chang Liu, Biostatistics, Parameter Estimation in a Two-Stage Model of Carcinogenesis. (Dr. Christopher J. Portier).

Tsai-Ching Liu, Economics, The Demand for Health Insurance Beyond Medicare. (Dr. John S. Akin).

Yvonne Wilsdon, Psychology, Studies of Memory Function in Hippocampally Lesioned Rats with and without Fetal Cell Implants. (Dr. Richard A. King).

Mary Kopke Wloch, Microbiology and Immunology, The Role of Somatic Mutation in the Immune Response to the Sb Site of Influenza Hemagglutinin. (Dr. Stephen H. Clarke).

Virginia W. Wolf, Counseling Psychology, Black-White Interracial Marriage: Variables Related to Marital Adjustment. (Dr. Linda Brooks).

Ming Zhang, Statistics, Optimal Adaptive M-Estimation in a Class of Repeated Measurements Designs. (Dr. Pranab K. Sen).

Doctor of Public Health

George P. Cole, Maternal and Child Health, Child Maltreatment and Mortality Risk in Infants and Young Children. (Dr. Dorothy C. Browne).

David H. Jolly, Health Behavior and Health Education, An Analysis of Sexual Practices Among Men Attending Gay Bars in North Carolina. (Dr. Jo Anne Earp).

John Dunne to the "folks"

8 February 1962

My English course is the finest course I've ever had . . . It really zings—the prof is amazing, the lectures loaded, stimulating, fun, etc. . . And not stuff that is just the repetition of a text. My Poly Sci course is good—very bright class & the Prof. is much published. My French course is also tremendous—best man in dept. We read a Parisien [sic] weekly magazine and then in class, sit in a circle and discuss the articles in French, getting very quickly off on great thought tangents—much fun. Mod Civ. is the same and Chem is a new Prof.—less jokes, more business—should be a better course.

Chapel Hill is situated in the midst of very beautiful & picturesque scenery; On all sides it is diversified with hills & plains. The College buildings are situated on a little eminence & are composed of five. The South Building, which is much the largest & in which are two recitation rooms, a laboratory & the halls of the two societies, besides some thirty private rooms, the East Building, in which there is one recitation room, with twenty two rooms for the students, & the West Building, which is composed entirely of private rooms. The tutors occupy one each in the East & West Buildings. There is also a chapel in which we attend church & prayers & another building for recitation rooms exclusively, in which there are four.

William Sidney Mullins Diary

19 January 1841

An amusing circumstance occurred today in our room. It is usual for Gov. Swain to visit all the Rooms in College at the commencement of each Session and enquire of the occupants if they have any guns, pistols, or other deadly weapons, and on this semianual tour of enquiry he came this morning to our room and asked us the usual question. To it my roommate (one of the stoutest fellows in College) replied, at the same time shaking very significantly his brawny fist, "None but this, Sir." The Governor was very much amused at the reply and laughed heartily. N. B. I had a pistol in the draw[er] and therefore said nothing, but let Tom talk.

Carrie McKee, Sylvia Crawley, Tonya Sampson, and Charlotte Smith celebrate winning the NCAA women's basketball championship. The Tar Heels won on a last-second three-point shot by Smith. The team capped its 33-2 season, beating Louisiana Tech 60-59, making UNC the first ACC school to win an NCAA women's basketball championship.

UNC-Chapel Hill: The First State University

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill was authorized by the N.C. state constitution of 1776, which proclaimed that "all useful learning shall be duly encouraged and promoted in one or more universities."

Carolina's charter was approved in 1789, and the cornerstone of the first building, Old East, was laid on October 12, 1793. The University annually celebrates Carolina's birth date each October 12. In 1795, the University opened its doors to students.

The University of Georgia at Athens was chartered in 1785, but did not open until 1801, six years after Hinton James enrolled as the first student at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Carolina graduated its first class in 1798.

James Johnston Pettigrew to his father

8 February 1846

Although it is early in the session, I presume it will not be out of place to make a statement of the clothes I shall want, more especially since my wardrobe is nearly exhausted. The present underclothes are the ones I had when I left Hillsboro [sic], with the exception of four bosoms and collars, which I bought two years ago. Most of these, that is to say, shirts, drawers, stockings, collars, handkerchiefs, & cravats, are either worn out or have become too small. The same is the case with my outer clothes, with the exception the two pairs of pantaloons, which were purchased at Raleigh last summer, and are both [sic] too small by this time. In the article of shirts, I am almost certainly deficient. My present cap has lasted two winters, and Sister Mary can inform you with regard to its shabby appearance during the vacation. This I mention, merely to show, that I am not disposed to be extravagant in my dress.

I have to apply myself more intensely to my studies now than ever before. It is on account of the increased quantity of the lessons here in comparison with those to which I have been accustomed [sic] to.

It is a law of the university that the President shall transmit a report of the demeanor of each student to their Parents or Guardian respectively, twice a session so I wish you when you get mine to write to me immediately and transcribe in your letter his report. I predict mine will be very common at first but if studying will better it, it shall be done.

The Official 1994 UNC-Chapel Hill
Graduation Video

Graduation and more—on video!

Your memories of Carolina and your graduation can be as bright and exciting as the day the memories are made. The official 1994 UNC-Chapel Hill Graduation Video will include every aspect of graduation—from behind-the-scenes as graduates don their robes to the pomp and circumstance of the procession. You will see the speakers, the guests, and, most importantly, the graduates. You will see lots of personal interviews with graduates just like yourself! Plus, the videotape will include the familiar sights and sounds of Chapel Hill, the action of Franklin Street, the beauty of Polk Place and the Old Well, the bustle of campus around the Pit, and much, much more.

Purchase the 1994 Graduation Video, and you will make a nostalgic journey back to Carolina possible—five, ten, even twenty years from now.

To order, call 1-800-476-5658.

$35.00 includes shipping.

Visa/MasterCard orders accepted.
